Together we can make it

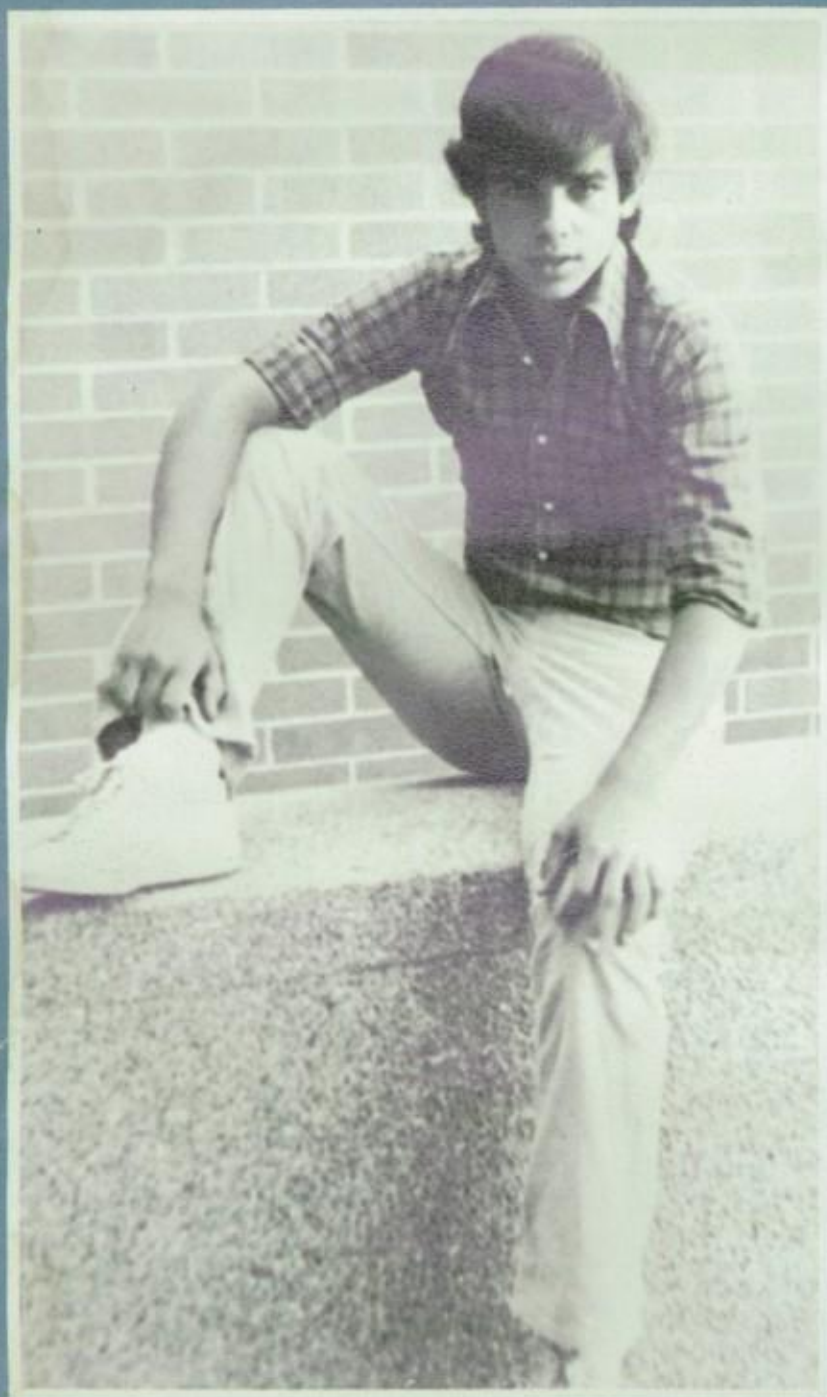

e're all in this together." Look at it for a minute. It might have multiple meanings. It might even have split personalities. It could mean everyone in something. Let's suppose the Cougar Football team lost an important game. Let's suppose this game was our Homecoming. You'd say "our team is so sorry. They can't even win one lousy game." Well, do you suppose if you went out to one of the games and gave them a little support and encouragement they might feel a little better and might be so determined that they will win? How can the team do a good job all alone? They need our help.

Let's say a club wanted to have a candy sale. Could one person sell all the candy by themselves and make enough money for the club's needs? Of course not! Every club member has to work in order to achieve success.

How about in class? When the teacher walks out of the room while you're studying for a test, doesn't everyone work together to compare their answers to make sure you have them all right? Of course you do. It takes togetherness to accomplish your goals.

It all goes down to one thing.
We're all in this together.
We're all in life together.
That's what it's all about.

In order for us to make it through life we have to have a little togetherness.

WE'RE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER

Togetherness.
Where would we be without it?

Alone.

Loose.

Empty?

What would life be like without it?

Dull.

Boring.

Cold?

We need togetherness to survive these days of peril.

Together we make plans,

eat, drink,

and be merry.

Sounds great! So we get together to create,

to build,

to live.

Direct from the parking lot to you

The parking lot scene is a regular thing each year. The only thing that makes it different is the faces. As years go by we see that different cars appear and the old ones disappear.

But have you ever stopped to look at it from the parking lot's view? How would you feel having two-ton trucks and big cars driving on you all day long? You get rather tired of it, not to mention a little sore.

Do you think you could do the parking lot a favor and walk to school or ride your bike? Not only would this make the parking lot feel better, but this will also do the gas shortage some good. We can always save the gas for a time when we really need it (like for Friday night parties after the game).

Another thing that might make the parking lot feel better, (not to mention the janitors) would be if people didn't litter so much. Actually if they didn't litter at all, the parking lot would quit complaining completely.

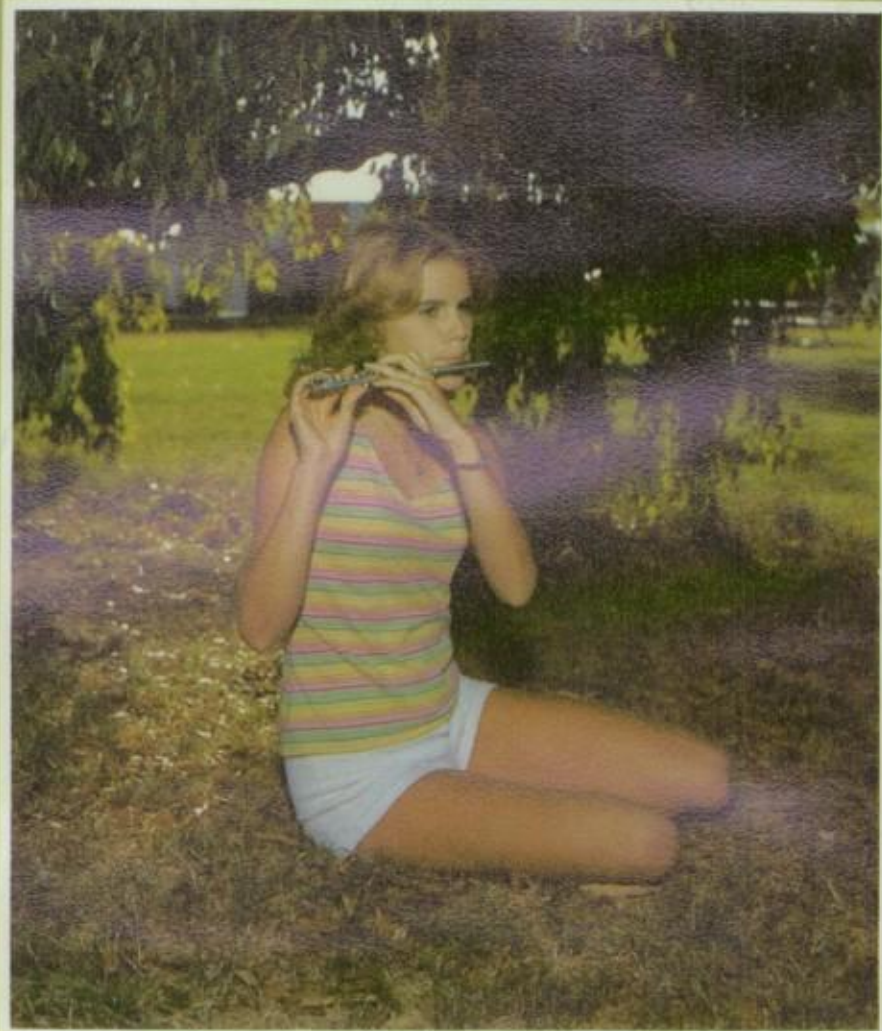

So the next time you're not thinking about the parking lot, stop and think about it. It thinks about you all the time you're not there. What else does the parking lot have to do besides talk to yearbook editors?

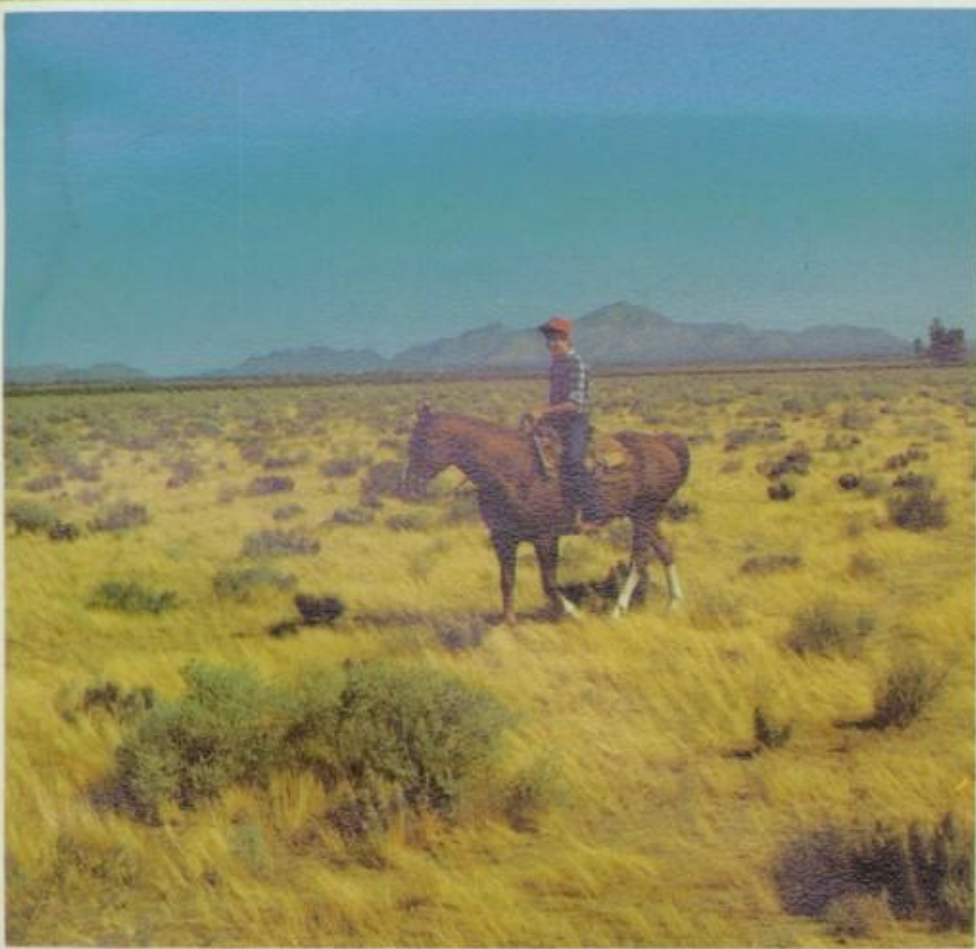

HIDEAWAYS

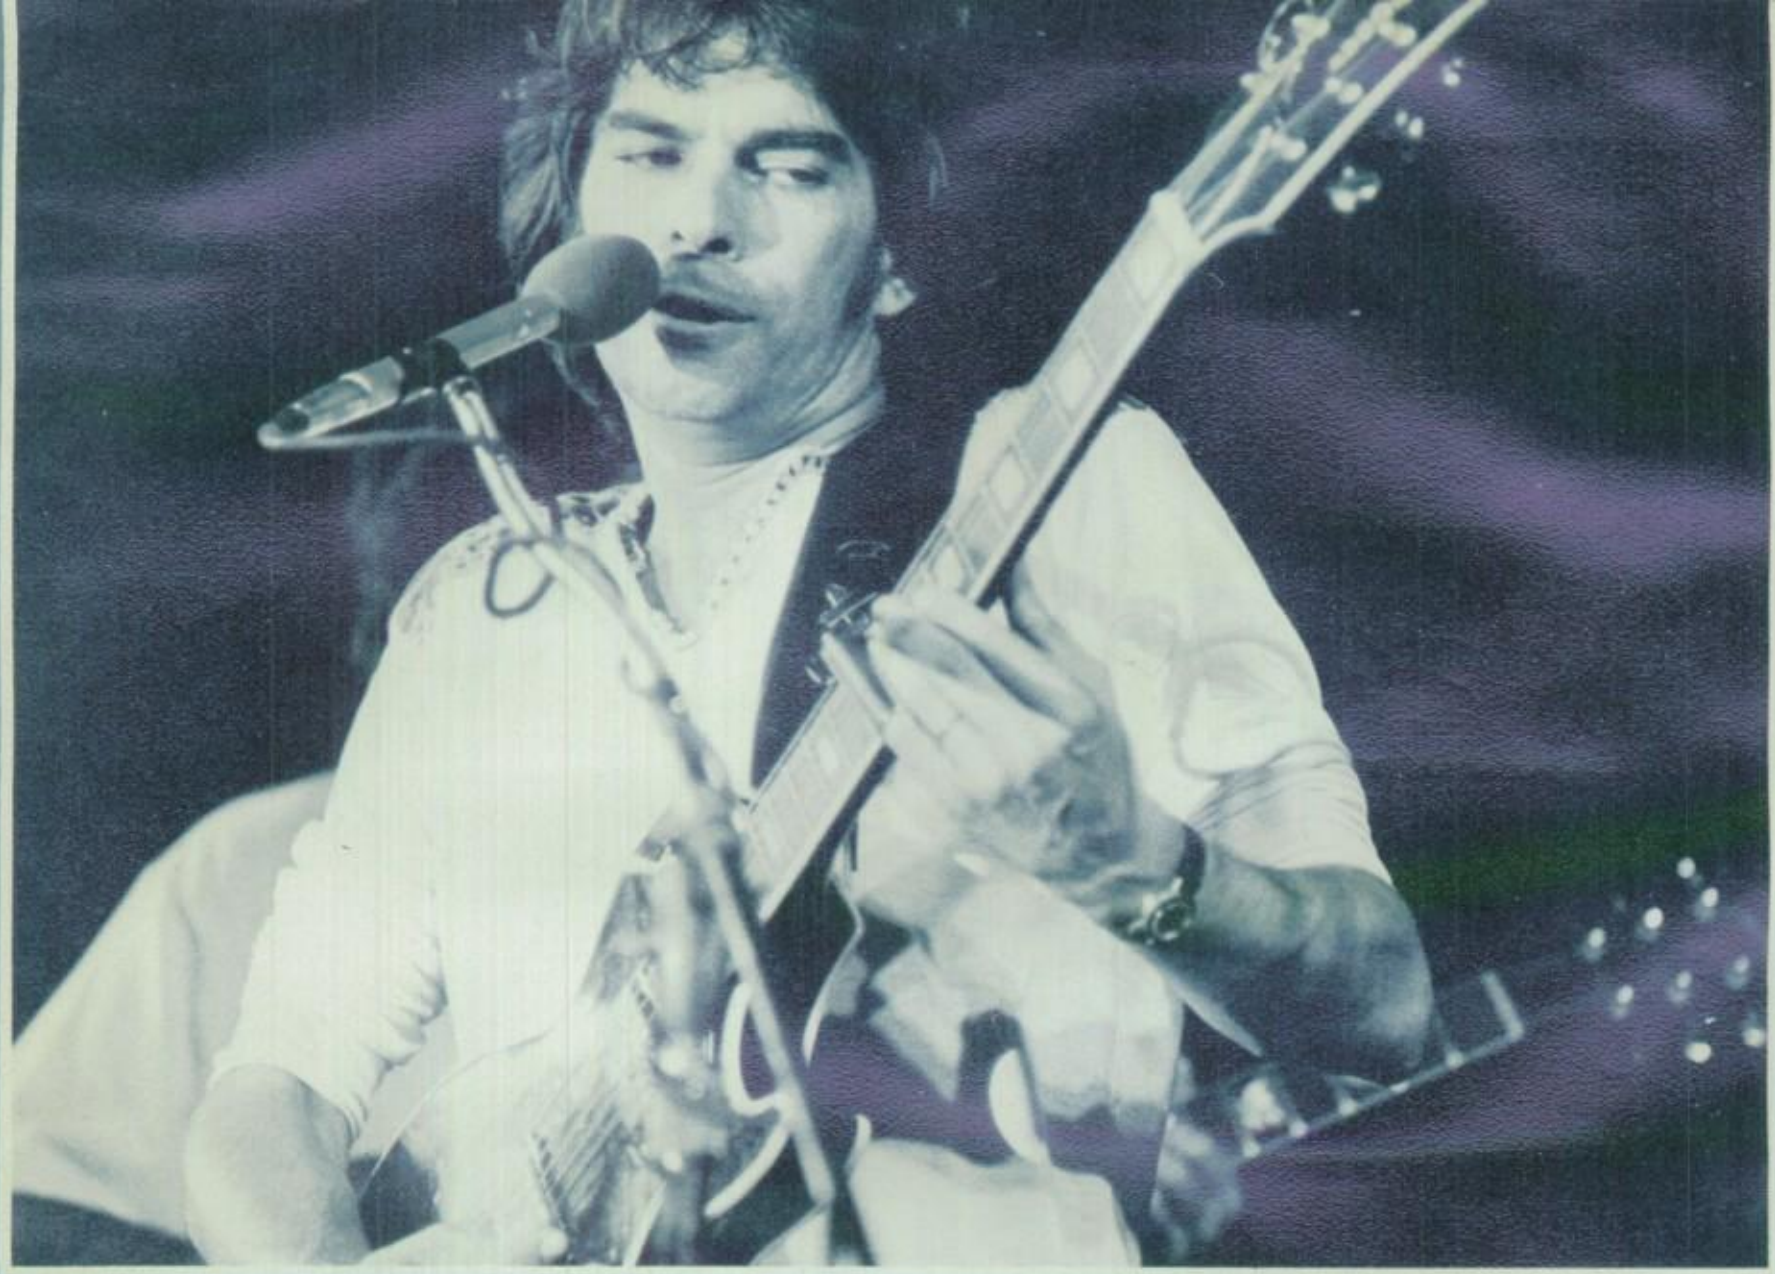

As people get older and farther into life, they generally have an urge to get away from everything. Life's problems can really build up to a point where you just don't know what to do. It's just one of those days where everything is going wrong. You have a test in Economics (which you didn't have time to study for because you had to work until 11 p.m. last night), you forgot to bring in your term paper for Advanced English (which you've had done for the past two weeks but your teacher doesn't believe you, so you fail the semester) and to top that off, you forgot your lunch money so you have to starve during lunch hour when all your friends are munching down on burritos, hamburgers, and fries.

So you say to yourself, "I have to get away from all this." Everyone has a different way to get away. If you're like Tina Anderson, you might go to the pool to relax. Or you might go horseback riding like Mikkel Cavanee and ride as far away from your troubles as you can get. No matter what the case may be, you can always find a place that will suit your need for solitude.

nd now! Making his debut in Casa Grande. The one and only Jerry Riopelle!

September 30 will be a night long remembered by many. It was the night Jerry Riopelle came to Francisco Grande.

Riopelle along with the Noel Kirkland band and the Double Shuffle band performed before 1600 people at the Giant's field. From 8 pm to approximately 11:40 pm the three groups played a variety of country and western and a little bit of rock and roll.

Noel Kirkland opened first and played for about half an hour. He was followed by the Double Shuffle band which later teamed up with Riopelle to play two and a half hours straight. Riopelle received a standing ovation as soon as he walked on the stage. He opened by singing Real Fat, which is a mixture of country and western.

Riopelle plays mostly in Arizona because he is well-known here and of course likes the beautiful weather. About playing in such a small town, Riopelle said, "I think it will be great. Playing at an open air concert will be a new experience for me. I'm sure I will have a lot of fun and I hope everyone else does too."

Other tunes by Riopelle include Like We Used To Do, Walking On Water, Sweet Naomi (which he wrote for his wife when he first met her), Easy Driver and Red Ball Texas Flyer.

After talking with Riopelle, the Cougar Annual found out that he started at an early age. When he was in high school he had a band and they played at parties, dances and night clubs. After graduating from high school in Florida, he moved to California to become a record producer. After a few years of this he decided what he really wanted to do was sing so he got a band together again and became a singer.

nother day has gone by and once again you are so tired you'd like to drop. You've worked hard.

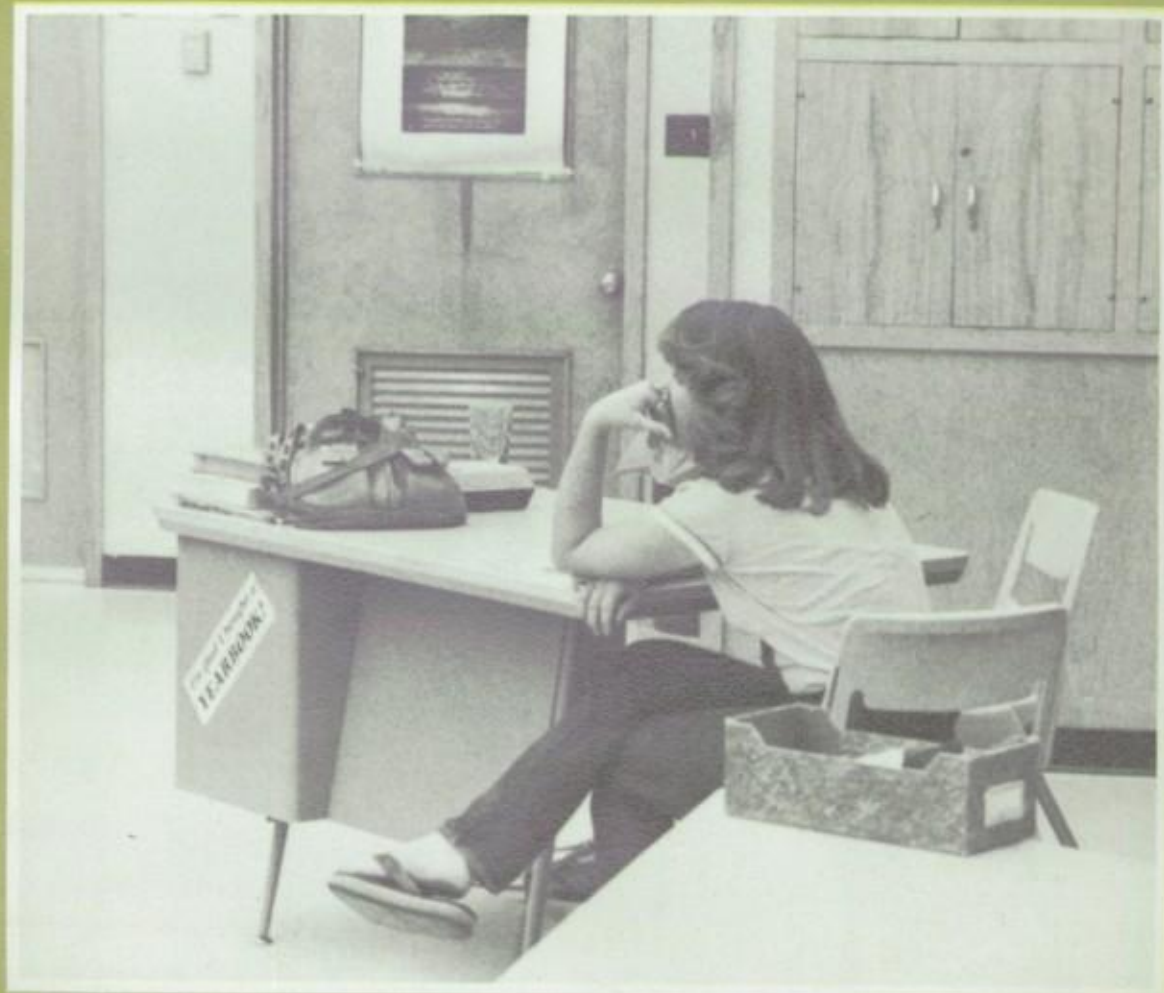

You've put up with your teachers who are constantly telling you you're wrong or that you've made a mistake. You've even managed to get through American History.

You passed all your mid-term exams (but only by a slim margin) and you even handed in your term paper for English. You know you're tired, and overworked. You deserve a break. So take one, you earned it. If people think getting through Algebra is easy just because you pretend to laugh at Mr. Frank's jokes so he'll give you a good grade . . . if people think passing economics is easy just because Mr. Mitchell gets sidetracked and talks all hour . . . they're crazy! Life is tough. And school is even tougher (I know you find that hard to believe). You work hard. You have to. Life is no bowl of raisins (or cherries either). So occasionally you need to rest. You should try it. You might even find that you will benefit from it.

You will find that first hour Physics will be much easier after a little rest.

THIS IN ALL WE'RE

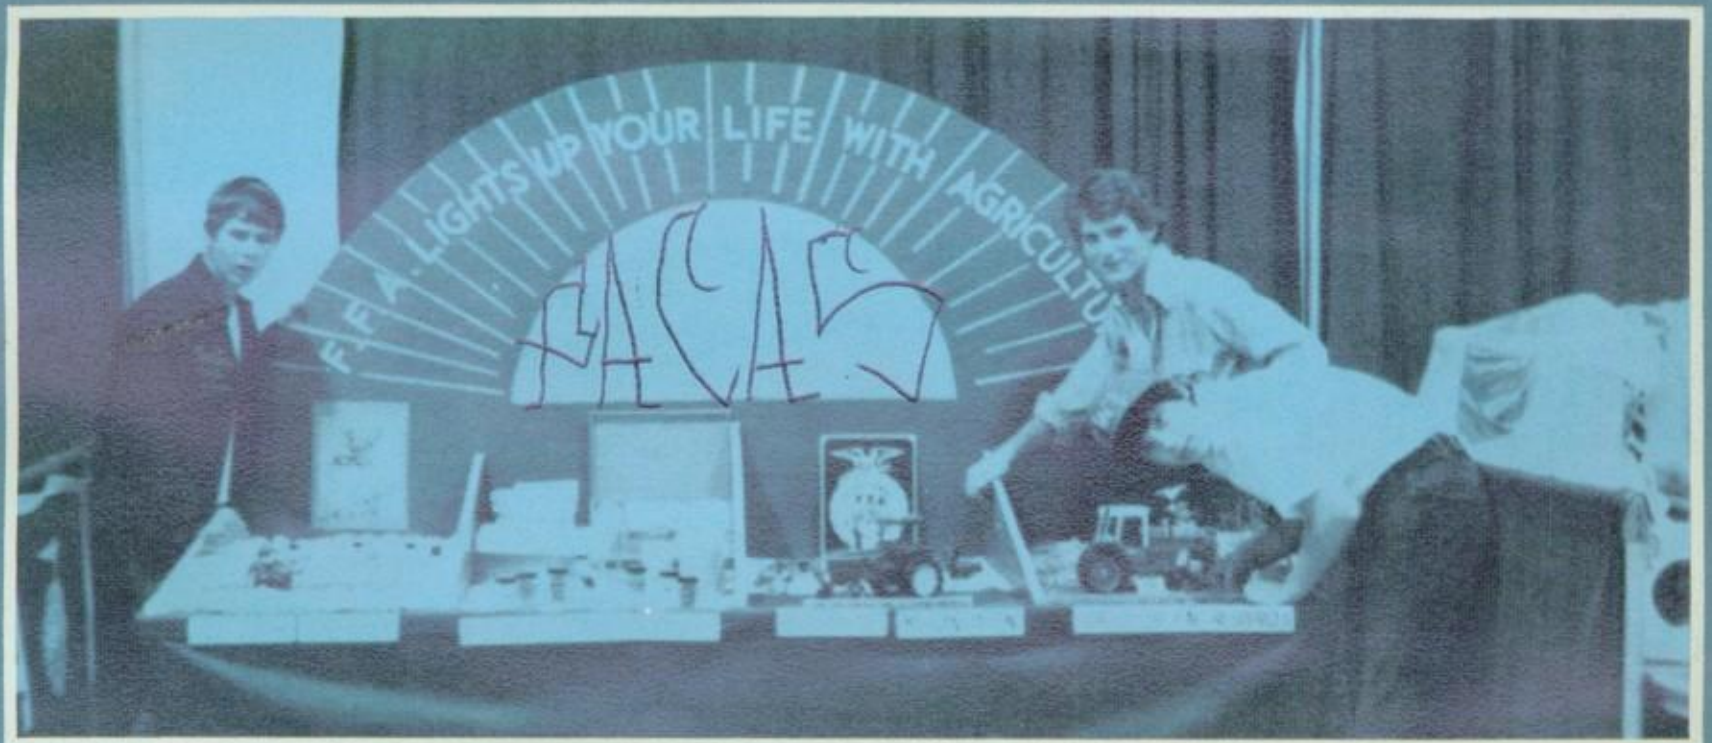

For all the students who took part in this year's groups, it couldn't have been a much more exciting year. If there was one thing this year's groups did was get people involved in their activities. Membership was up. Many clubs have state and regional officers for this coming year.

Clubs were making money like wildfire this year. Clubs sold candy, candy apples, buttons, etc. They even had a bake sale, one club even sold raffle tickets for a turkey. FFA had a Bar-B-Que. The speech team for the first time in CGUHS history held a speech tournament. FFA also put up a booth at the county fair and FBLA helped another club at the halloween carnival. There was an Almost Anything Goes between two clubs, FBLA and DECA.

TOGETHER IN ... GROUPS

Staffers strive for perfection

Each year the Growl and the Cougar are put down because "they're so boring." Well, students don't understand how much work goes into making the newspaper and the annual. It takes a lot of hard work, overtime and dedication. Members of both staffs have to do most of the work on their own time and during class, too. "We have to come in at 7:30 each morning, and some times even 7:00. We have to cope with deadlines and the smallest staff on record, commented Joanna Valdez, Annual Editor. "Working with an inexperienced staff was hard at first but as the year progressed they got the hang of it," said Lisa Braddock, newspaper editor. It's true there's a lot of work to be done on both staffs, so next time you decide to put down yearbook or newspaper, remember how much work and time is put into both of them. Also, if you think you can do a better job, and have the time, you join the staff and get a taste of the "fun."

Three staffers, two from Newspaper, one from Annual attended the Arizona Interscholastic Press Association, (AIPA) at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff. These staffers include Blanca Alvarez, Lisa Braddock, Newspaper editor, and Joanna Valdez, Yearbook editor.

They were there for 10 days and attended classes during the day and sometimes during the evening. Lisa and Blanca attended classes pertaining with newspaper writing, production and layout. Joanna attended classes dealing with Yearbook layouts, feature stories and dealing with temperamental photographers.

All three staffers worked on the Pine 'n Pen yearbook up there. They had the experience of having a limited amount of time to do a great amount of work.

Student Council: Future Leaders of tomorrow

This meeting will now come to order, the minutes were read and new business was discussed. This is the opening to each Student Council meeting. Student Council is an organization in which they are supposed to represent the student body at the high school. During the year Student Council sponsored pep rallies, a Cougar Convoy to the basketball divisionals in Chaparral and of course the first dance of the year. One main issue that was fought was the new attendance policy. Many happenings went on around the high school this year but Student Council did their best to keep it under control. The meeting will now come to a close, do I hear a second to the motion.

Pep Club helps cheerleaders yell

Branded with the name Cougar Pep section, the Pep Club takes part in helping promote spirit at sports activities and pep assemblies.

The varsity cheerleaders are a big part of cougar spirit. These are the eight girls who get the crowds at games to become rowdy, high spirited and excited.

Last but not least the Cougar band. No matter what happens the band is always there playing the fight song, getting people up in arms and yelling their famous "Hubba" cheer.

Deca, Hostess Clubs prove to be valuable

Deca is a club for students enrolled in Distributive Education classes. It promotes the appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system.

During the year DECA members participated in many conferences, such as the Fall Regional conference, Winter Regional conference, and MDA Leadership conference.

Between these activities DECA members also donated their time and bowling skills for a Muscular Dystrophy Bowlathon.

At the Winter Regional conference CGUHS showed some outstanding competition, Ken Dick, Adriana Cuellar, Mike Pearl and Paul Skaggs; each made finals or better.

The Hostess Club is one of many organizations at the high school. Members had one of the most eventful years ever. They worked at all of the band concerts, chorus concerts, plays, and Readers' Theater by handing out programs and serving refreshments.

The Hostess Club was rewarded for their hard-working efforts by planning a "show day" at Mount Lemmon. In March, members of the club went to Flagstaff for a mini weekend retreat. In May, a day was scheduled for ice-skating and shopping at the Metro Center Mall.

AIASA: The Year of Honors

The American Industrial Arts Students Association, better known as AIASA, kept on the move this year. AIASA won the merchant window dressing contest for the club who had the best decorated window at Christmas -time. They also donated $150 worth of goods to the Casa Grande Food Bank during Thanksgiving and they gave their time and services to clean the rodeo grounds after O'Odham Tash. The club also enjoyed attending the Wheel-O-Rama and the Winter Nationals.

FBLA: Building a better world in business

"The Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) had a successful year," commented Mrs. Bobbie Thompson. Eileen Ford, president of FBLA said "we've come a long way baby. This year FBLA has been the most active it's ever been."

FBLA started off the year on the right foot. They helped city clubs with their projects. One example is Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority; on halloween night they helped them with their booth.

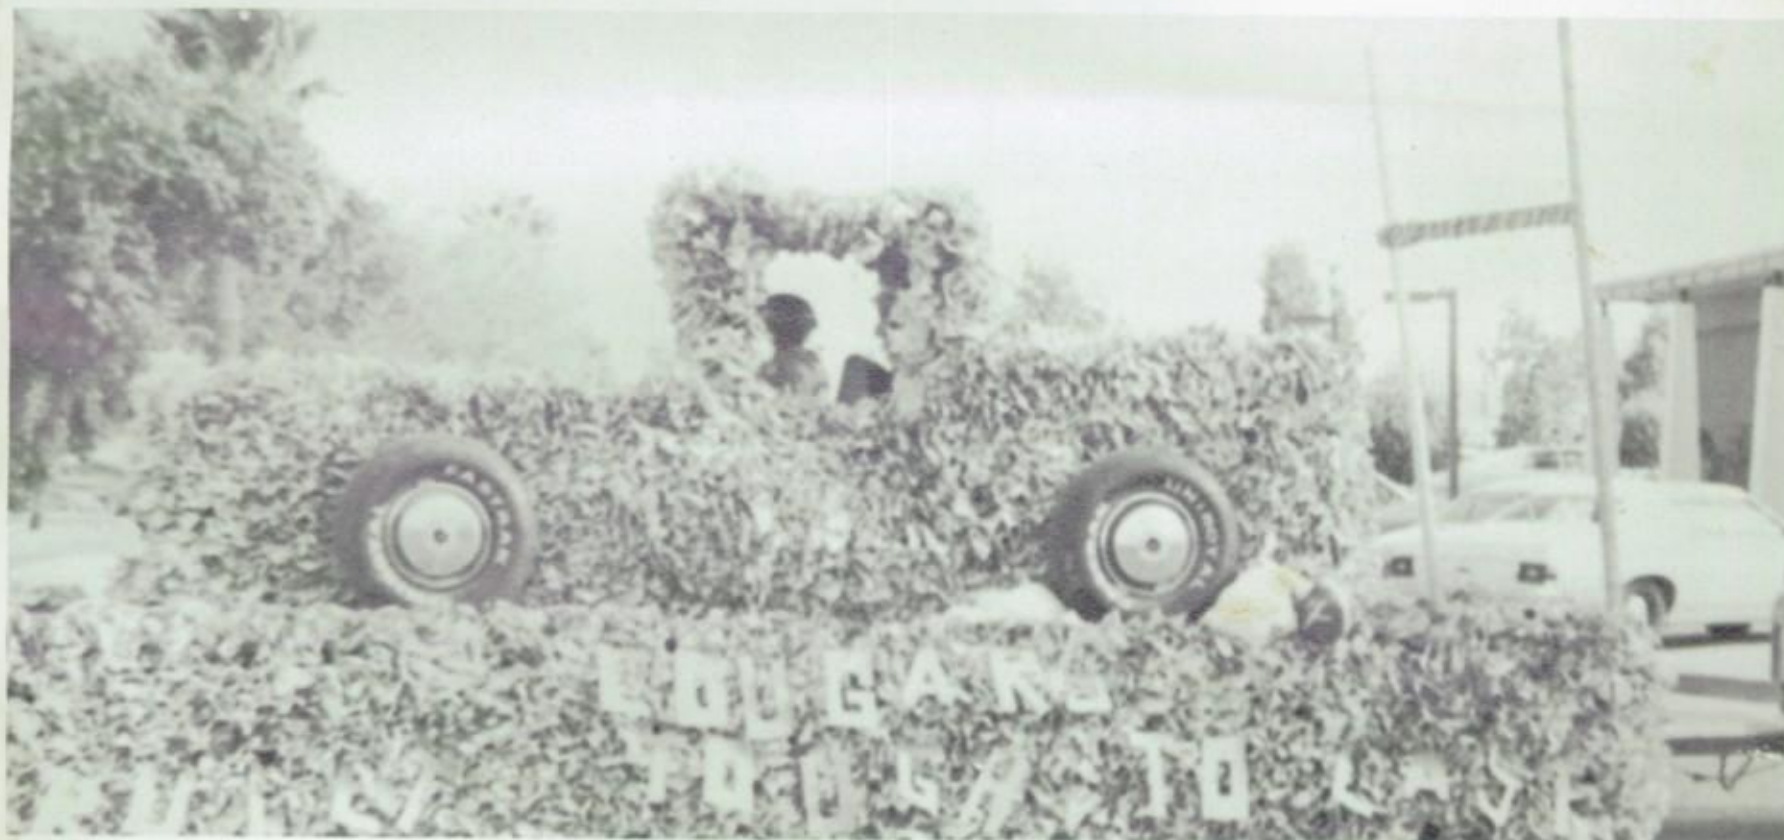

Eileen was heard on "Talk of the Town" over KPIN. For Homecoming the FBLA members built the winning club float. The officers participated in the Christmas parade.

If you think FBLA is all fun and games, watch out! In order for the projects to get done, they need money. They held a dance, candy sales, concessions, bake sale, turkey raffle and Jail and Bail.

FBLA didn't have fun just for themselves. They helped Richard Thomas in his campaign for the March of Dimes.

Every month FBLA honors one of its members who has done a great deal of work with the club.

When asked who could join FBLA, Eileen replied, "anyone who is taking a business course."

FFA plows away

Future Farmers of America is a National organization of active members enrolled in vocational agriculture. They plan to enter a career in agriculture or an agriculture related job.

To start making money for the FFA parent member banquet the Casa Grande FFA chapter had a kick off barbecue for the varsity football team.

During state fair some FFA members judged livestock and dairy.

The National FFA convention which was held in Kansas City was attended by Pam Bryum, James Jepsen, Steve Kendal, Melissa Wisner, Carolyn Miles, and their advisor Everett Rhodes in November.

December was a busy month for the future farmers. Some members attended a rifle match in Eloy. On the 21st the chapter had a Christmas party for the children at the Eleven mile corner school. They gave each child a bag filled with candy, nuts, and fruit.

Members such as Jeanea Andriano, Misty Diwan, and Stephanie Wesh showed sheep at the Arizona Nation Livestock show held in Phoenix. Tara Scott also showed a steer.

During national FFA week numerous members had pictures taken which were used in the Casa Grande Dispatch. The chapter also had a potluck to get the parents and members to know one another.

Judging team participates in judging field days during February and March.

To help make money for the upcoming banquet, in March the future farmers had a pancake breakfast and slave auction.

The highlight of the year was the parent member award banquet in May.

AFS, Graphics: Turning people on "American Field Service (AFS) turning people into places." Twenty-one students from around the world came to Casa Grande over O'Dodham Tash weekend to learn about the Indian Culture. Darren Cooper and Adriana Ceullar are Casa Grande's Foreign Exchange students.

1979 was a busy year for the Graphics Unlimited Club. The club made most of the posters for the school plays, posters for the Music Benefit, and they made the posters and shirts for Reader's Theater. The club is in the process of trying to raise money for scholarships.

Club spirit reaches all time high

The Mexican-American club is made up of Mexican students of the high school. The club was very active this school year. With all their background and things they did, the club did a good job on their float which received a second place finish. The Afro American club is designed to provide the interest if students in black heritage and their culture. The Afro club is led by Sharon Pinsett as President. The club held a picnic in April plus they went ot CAC for Black Day.

Electronics, French Clubs do a good job

The Electronics club is for students who are enrolled in electronics class and who would like to know more about the field.

The electronics club is a club when you can learn a career that may be of help to you in your later years.

Learning to speak French and learn all about the French culture is what is what the French Club is all about.

The club has been active in many student activities.

Cougars get extra Cougar

After the Pan American Club's recent donation, the school Library might easily be mistaken for the jungles of Africa. The library now houses not one, but two cougars, the new addition being a black velvet painting. The painting was acquired in a trip to Nogales in October.

Johnny Randall stated, "In that time, Michele Harrington, Bob Luce, Gayla Phillips, Carmen Fleming and I, went from one gift store of the merchandise. After looking in about half the stores, we found a black velvet painting of a cougar, and decided to locate Mr. Hall and discuss buying it with him."

Mr. Hall was able to bring down the price of the painting to $10 and approximately 16 club members were found in Nogales and were asked to help buy it.

The club made a unanimous decision to donate the painting of the cougar to the school's Loren Curtis Library.

The Key Club was involved in many activities this year. Among them are concession stands at the football, basketball, baseball games and at the track meets. They helped the Casa Grande Police Athletic League (CGPAL) set up their boxing program. They cleaned up Wilson Pioneer Cemetery.

"The largest project that we participated 7246 in this year, was collecting toys for the needy kids. We set up drop boxes throughout the school." commented Rodney Whisenhunt.

The Key Club is a subsidiary of the Kiwanis Club. They helped the Kiwanis' sell Christmas trees.

Matmaids, Batgirls lend a helping hand

Baseball players weren't the only ones making homeruns this spring, the 1979 varsity batgirls covered a lot of bases too. They didn't actually participate in the games, but they were a vital part of the team.

Raising money to help the baseball team is the main goal of the bat girls and it is done in odd and various ways. The first money-making project the girls embarked on was a bake sale, which brought in approximately $80. In their next effort to raise money, the girls found out that the baseball players weren't the only ones who had to stay in shape. They participated in a Jog-a-thon, along with the coaches. Pledges were made for each lap run in an hour, the minimum being ten cents a lap. Junior Sandy Walters made the most mileage, running 19 laps. The girls averaged about 17 laps per person, making approximately $200. Aside from the fact that many "bow-legged" batgirls could be seen hobbling around school for a few days afterwards, this money-making scheme proved to be a success. Other projects included running concession stands, and selling candy and stationery.

During the games, the twelve-girl team was separated into groups for different duties. Some worked concession, sold souvenirs, and various things in the stands. Other handed out programs, took statistics, picked up bats, ran for foul balls, and just stayed on hand to do anything that needed doing.

"Being a matmaid is hard work, but its all worth it," announced Connie Hernandez, president of the matmaid squad. The matmaids seem to be well appreciated by all wrestlers. At the beginning of the season each matmaid selected a varsity wrestler to spoil throughout the season. The matmaids spoiled the wrestlers by having oranges and gatorade available to each wrestler during the matches. The wrestlers were also awarded huge stockings at Christmas and butoneers before their last match.

The Weightlifting Club of Casa Grande High School has over 30 members this year. Mr. Forchetti is first year advisor of the club. "It's been an excellent experience working with all these students this year."

In order to get a t-shirt saying that the lifters have reached their goal, they have to lift in a certain weight class with three different lifts in which they do. They are the squat, bench and power.

The Lettermans Club is also known as the C.G. Club. In order to be in the C.G. club you must have lettered in a Varsity sport. Some of the members already are four year letter persons. In sports such as swimming, and track people can earn their Varsity letter.

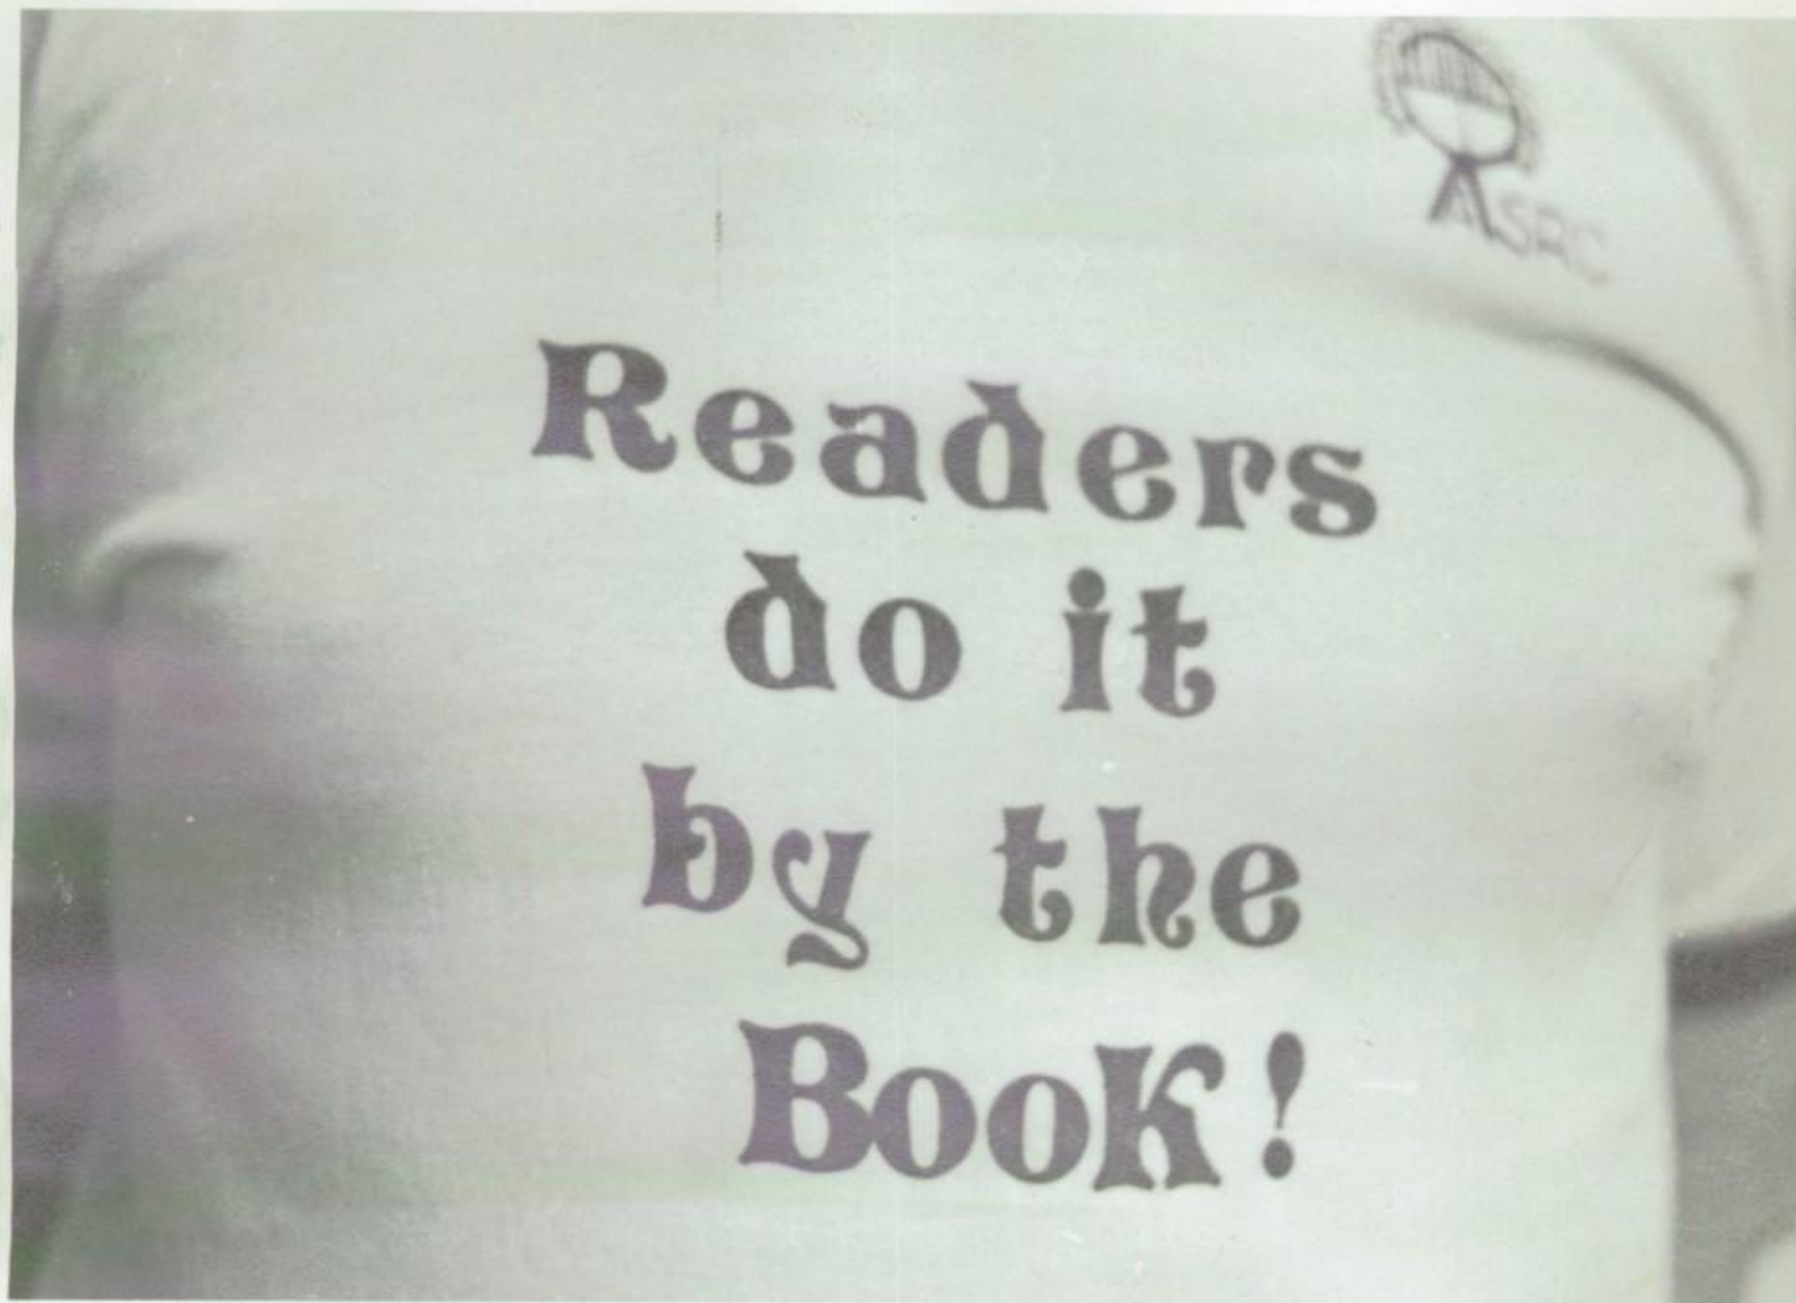

The CG Club held a dance this year which they earned lots of money. Every year the C.G. Club initiates the new members. This year was no exception!

Mu Alpha Theta is commonly referred to as the Math Club. During the year, each member participated in one experiment. Members also conduct one private project each.

Advisors Miss Maria DeLand and Mrs. Nancy Hebert helped the club organize a math contest in March.

Mu Alpha Theta is affiliated with a national organization.

National Honor Society had scholarships at the end of the year to one lucky senior. As a club they visited the University of Arizona in Tucson, worked concessions to provide money for their treasure. In May NHS held their annual NHS banquet.

In order to be in NHS you have to have good grades, leadership, and have good standing in school.

Speech: The speakers of tomorrow

The 1978-79 school year was a busy year for the speech team.

For starters it was the first year CGUHS ever hosted a speech tournament. It proved to be very successful for Mel Glotflety who resulted in 4th place in the humorous category.

When the speech team competed at Auga Fria, freshmen Matt Fitzgerald and Mike Frazey received second and fourth places, consecutively.

It was also the first year students from CGUHS participated in debate. The teams included Bart and Matt Fitzgerald, Brad Scaggs, and Kris Weatherly. The teams of Bart and Matt Fitzgerald took 1st place at the Brophy Tournament, with forty teams competing.

Tournaments aren't the only activities the speech team participated in. Some members took part in Readers Theater. Lori Kunz, Mel Glotfelty, Jenny Echeverria, Angel Cody, Lance Krouse, Penny Green and Curtis Steinhoff displayed their talents using "The Question" as the Readers Theater theme. Ms. Elaine Bosse directed and Nancy Firestine acted as the assistant director.

The group received much support from the stage crew: Mark and Geoff Richmond.

Chorale & Blue Notes

singing their way to the top

Blue Notes kicked the 1978-79 music year off with a performance at the Chili Supper. Blue Notes were involved in over 100 concerts this year, 30 of those performed in December.

Blue Notes is a group of 25 top voices in the music classes. They practiced zero hour under the direction of Mr. Ben Day and again fourth hour in practice for Chorale.

Chorale and Blue Notes traveled to California during spring break for the annual Spring Tour. Besides the Spring Tour the Blue Notes and Chorale performed a Spring Sing.

Blue Notes also performed for Public Service Organizations. They sang at a spaghetti dinner and at a Board Convention for the National Realtors.

Besides all this, during the year, Blue Notes also sang for anyone requesting a singing telegram.

ca Murieta, Karla Nelson, Ruth O'Brien, Beth Odom, Marty Peterson, Tim Russ, Peter Shaffer, Kevin Sullivan, Robert Tackett, Donna Tollett, Nicki Wyble, Pamela Zesiger.

The first year is over as . . .

There were two girls' chorus classes, the first one was first hour and the last one was seventh hour. Boys' chorus met at third hour. The class was not easy. They worked hard and long hours to achieve excellence in their concerts.

The beginning choirs performed at the Thanksgiving concert and at the Messiah.

These choirs are our next step up to becoming a Blue Note or Choralier. Thanks goes to Mr. Ben Day and Miss Shipp for their dedication and skills.

Thespians present dramas, 1-acts

'Dracula' 'Go Ask Alice' 'Dionysus' and 'Pardon'

The International Thespian Society is a lot more than you think. It is the only organization that honors secondary school students for their outstanding achievements in theatre.

Membership gives students the will to participate in theatre activities and can be an important factor in a student's ability to gain admission to a good drama program at a University.

Each year, the International Thespian Society offers many scholarships to its most outstanding members who plan to continue their theatre training in a college or professional school.

It's more than just the publisher of the oldest theatre magazine in America, 'Dramatics.' Dramatics is the only magazine dedicated to helping people do theatre better and appreciate it.

It is the sponsor of the International Theatre Arts Conference which attracts more than 2300 people to workshops, productions and presentations.

It's more than just the oldest and largest service oriented theatre organization in America. More than a million people have enjoyed the honor of Thespian memberships since the Society's founding in 1929. Thousands of Thespians (including, Faye Dunaway, Dick Van Dyke, and Robert Drivus) have gone on to highly successful careers in the performing arts.

But being a Thespian has meant something special to each of our million members. For them, and the millions to follow. The International Thespian Society represents a Collective declaration of love for the Theatre.

TOGETHER IN SPORTS

Sports took on a new look this season. Many new coaches were added to the staff. The football team had a new head coach, Ernie Forchetti. He resigned his coaching position at the University of Arizona and came to Casa Grande to take over the reins of the Cougar football team. Former coach Jim Russum had resigned in order to take over the position of athletic director. Mr. Forchetti brought with him a new staff. They were coach Ed Genga who came from Ganado, Arizona. Coach Lou West from the University of Arizona and coach Paul Litwinetz from Pennsylvania. The only remaining member from the previous staff was trainer Clint Myers. There were other new coaches this season. Coach Jack Jones took over the junior varsity football team and coach Gary Ellis joined to help him. Mr. Tony Rascon stepped in the middle of the season to help out the frosh lightweight football team after coach Dave Narramore resigned.

The Boys' Cross Country team had Mr. Bill Allen for their new coach. Mr. Dean Irgens coached the Girls' Cross Country team for the first time this season. Ms. Kathy Markham took over the job of coaching the Badminton team and the Girls' Track team. Coach Nancy Hebert took over the junior varsity Softball team. Mr. Stan Groves elected to be the new Girls' Basketball team coach. Mr. Joe Nix stepped up to the position of assistant coach on the Boys' Varsity Baseball team. Mr. Pat McClellan Took over the junior varsity Baseball team. The Boys' Basketball team traveled to New Mexico to play in the prestigious Hobbs Invitational Basketball Tournament for the first time ever. It is the most prestigious tournament in the southwest. Only the best teams can go and that is by invitation only. The team raised the money to go by having a carwash, selling balloons and having a barbecue.

Girls' basketball strives to improve

It's just their second season of girls' basketball, but Casa Grande High School is starting from scratch—a new coach, some new faces on the team, and a new attitude dedicated to improving last year's dismal 2-18 record. Stan Groves, the new head coach, isn't making any predictions of the Cougars. "It's difficult to tell because they had such a lousy season last year," Groves admitted. "The players are awfully apprehensive and we don't have a lot of experience. But I guess we're all waiting to see in the first game." There were 9 newcomers dotting the team roster, 8 returning veterans lent their experience and Groves explained everyone is,

"working hard to overcome last year." Judging from the attitude, things are bound to improve for the team. Last year's team was riddled with dissention, according to the players and their former coach, Mike Forslund. That could have accounted for the poor record more than the lack of ability. Coach Groves stated that he expects to "substitute like crazy." He also indicated he'll use a man-to-man defense, while depending on an "awfully conservative" 1-3-1 offense. That offense, he said, is predicted on a patient passing game to try to get the ball inside. The Cougars dropped their first game 55-45 against Scottsdale.

Our most exciting match this season was against the Chargers of McClintock. Our Varsity team defeated them by a score of 7-2," commented Coach Kathy Markham. Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams ended the season with a 4-7 record which was an improvement from last year's team.

"Our Varsity team went to the Divisionals this season. Teri Leal played the number one slot throughout the year, and she also competed as our number one player in the Trevor Brown Tournament. She was definitely the most outstanding player on the team." Holding the number two position was Pat Hodges. She was a very strong player for us this year. Pat also went to Divisionals this season. She was our number one player in doubles at the Divisionals. We are only going to lose four of our players because they are seniors," quoted Coach Kathy Markham. "Since we have so many people returning next year, I plan on having a better season. By then they will be seasoned enough to handle varsity competition. I'm going to expect a lot out of our Junior Varsity team because they really worked hard. We practiced like we played, to win. We practiced every day after school since the season began, and I am going to expect the same hard work out of them next season if they expect to make it to the state playoffs," stated Coach Kathy Markham.

Archery sets sights on target

I think we will do well this season in archery competition. Some of the girls improved tremendously over the summer. I will be expecting a lot out of my senior girls especially. It was a real benefit when Nancy Kerns moved back from New Mexico. We lost her last season but now she is back. I will be expecting a lot out of Kristi Lunt also. Not just because she is my daughter, but because she should be a team leader. I'm not forgetting our underclassmen. The rest of the varsity is composed of juniors. They are Heidi Lunt, Lori Curtis, Becky Buie and Rhonda Steele. I know they are going to score a lot of points for us this year. We had a junior varsity team. Most of them are inexperienced, but they are working hard to improve. With a little more practice, they could shoot varsity. The rain cut down a little bit of our practice time, but it also hampered our opponent's practice time," stated Coach Sharron Lunt.

There was another sport this year that a lot of people participated in, poerlifting. Coach Ernie Forchetti was the promoter behind the sport. He established a powerlifting club. A person had to lift so much according to his or her weight. A t-shirt was awarded to the new members. Several girls participated this year in what used to be a male dominated sport.

The Wolves controlled the Cougars until the final quarter. Grant Walton connected with Randy Robbins for a 66 yard touchdown.

3 Westwood 37; CG 19

The team continued its offensive momentum. The defense picked up momentum also. Walton threw 2 tds and ran for 2. The offense had 359 yards that night.

5 Mesa 22; CG 27 It was the high point of the year for the team. Monty Montgomery came in and scored the winning touchdown. The program seemed to be rolling along.

6 Tempe 27; CG 7 After an emotional game with Mesa, the team couldn't get it together. Injuries took their toll. Walton and Lassuy did not practice all week. Tempe had a good game. The Cougars did not perform well.

7 Saguro 17; CG 15
It was a very emotional game. Senior Joe Lassuy was injured for the season with a neck injury. The team hung in there and threatened to score again, but the team fell to a disputed call by the ref.

8 Arcadia 6; CG 34
The team took out their aggressions against the Titans. The referees made many disputed calls that night, but it didn't stop the Cougars from running all over them.

9 Yuma 21; CG 14
It was Homecoming night and it was disastrous. The offense couldn't move the ball till the final quarter. They almost pulled it off but the clock ran out. The big play hurt the defense.

10 Chaparral 28; CG 6
The Firebirds mauled the Cougars. Since they had been knocked out of playoff contention by the Yuma Criminals, they didn't perform or execute well.

(Above) Senior Wayne Bonham races around the end on a sweep. It was against the Arcadia Titans and he picked up 10 yards for his efforts. The Cougars went on to win the game 34-6.

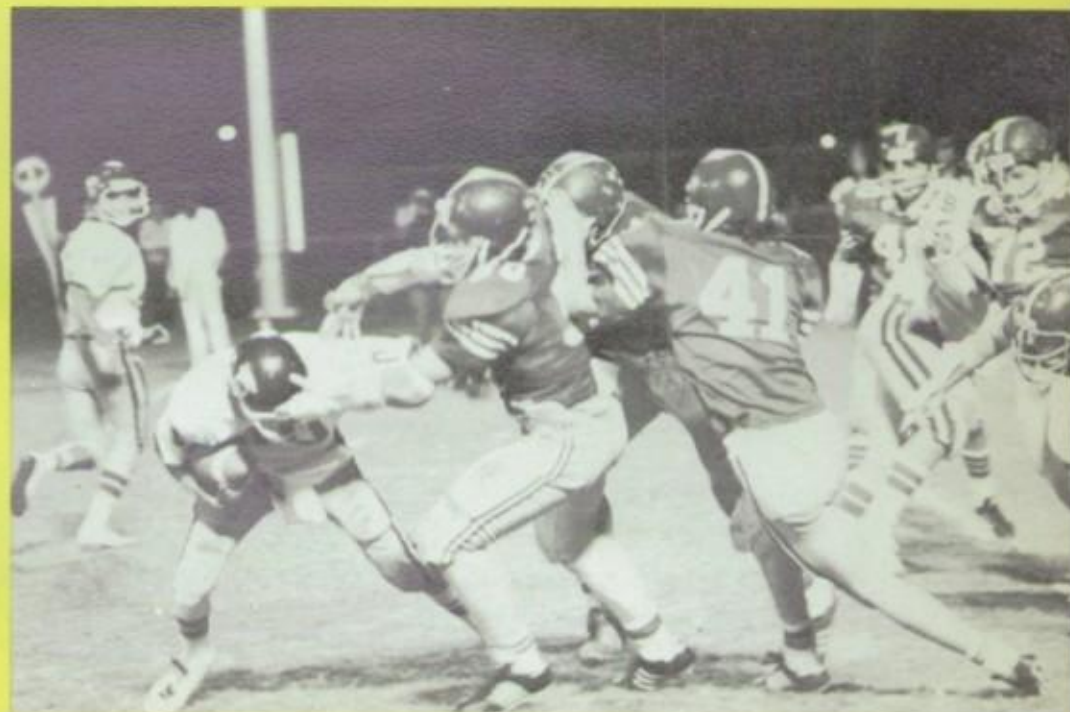

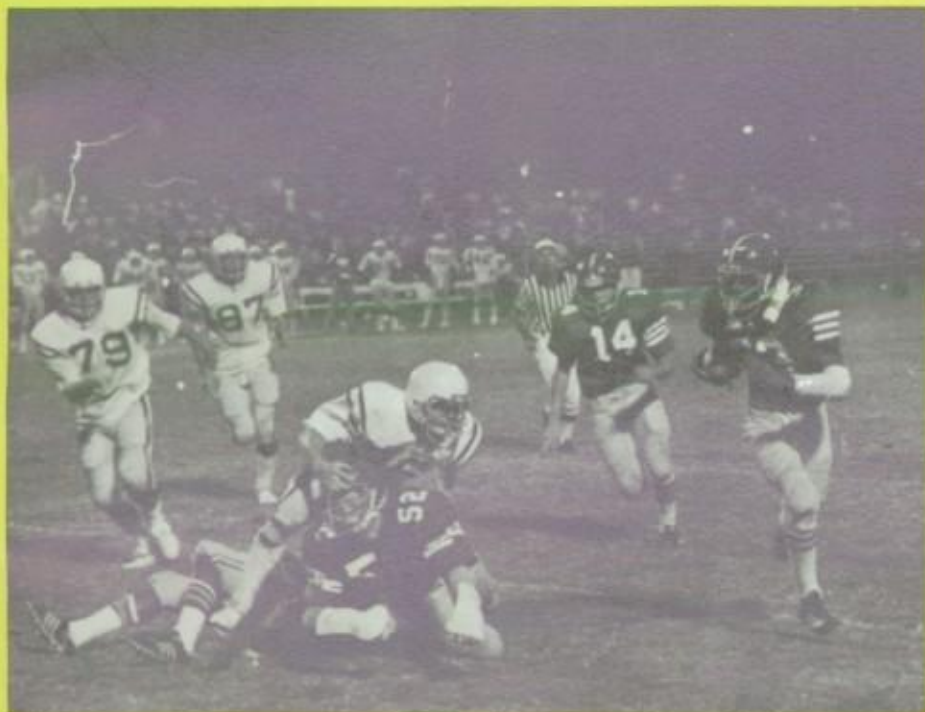

Cougars suffer losing season

The Varsity Football team had a disappointing 4-6 overall and a 2-4 mark in the AAA Central Division's A League. The team was under new head coach Ernie Forchetti. He brought with him a new staff consisting of offensive coach Paul Litwinetz, defensive coach Ed Genga and defensive backfield coach Lou West.

Looking at the statistics, this is how it went. Casa Grande outscored 203-198. They outhrew all others 1,135-808 yards and were only picked off 14 times. The team had a total offense of 2,681 yards to their foes 2,424 yards. The top men in total offense were Senior Grant Walton with 1,272 yards, Randy Robbins with 1,016, Joe Lassuy had 652, Chester Collins had 618 and Junior Rae Crockett had 577. On the defensive side, Senior Duane Gamez led with 12 unassisted and 106 assisted tackles from his line backer slot. Senior Wayne Bonham picked off 4 passes and Rod Whisenhunt scooped up 4 fumbles. Bonham also led in unassisted tackles with 26 from his corner back spot. In total defensive points, senior Joe Lassuy won the honor although he only played in 7 games because of a neck injury against Saguaro. He ended up in Barrows Neurological Center for a week. He had 184 points. Gamez was the No. 2 man with 137, followed by Randy Allen with 122.

"Our greatest Problem this year was inconsistency. I thought after our game with Mesa, We were on our way to the playoffs. It didn't work out that way. But we were right in the middle of the play off picture until the Yuma game," commented Coach Ernie Forchetti.

The freshmen and junior varsity teams had winning seasons this year. The Lightweight Football turned in the best record of all the football teams with a record of six wins, one loss and one tie. They outscored their opponents 143 to 64. "We were a tough team this season and we physically beat everybody we played. I feel that it was team effort that enabled us to have such a good season," commented Coach Larry Faust about his team. Coach Dave Narramore was relieved of Head Coach midway through the season and Coach Tony Rascon joined the Lightweight staff to assist Mr. Faust. The heavyweight team also had a winning season. Coach Joe Nix attributed the reason for it was because of team effort. Coach Jack Jones lead his junior varsity team to a winning season also. "We had a good time playing this year," stated Jeff Brown.

Girls join the ranks against guys

Girls this season invaded the cross country courses with the guys for the first time ever in Casa Grande. The girls were under the first time Head Coach Dean Irgens. They competed along side with their male counterparts, but were not in direct competition with them. The female Cougars competed with other teams from the Central division to which Casa Grande belongs. Their workout was less strenuous than the guys was, about half the distance and half the time. When asked how he felt about running with the girls, Manuel Hernandez said, "It does not matter to me because I am usually way ahead of them, but some of my teammates were beaten by girls this season." The girls had some wins though, against Saguaro, Chandler and Chapparral.

The guys faired well in competition again this season. They knocked off number one ranked Coronado in a home meet. But the Dons came back and beat the Cougars in the Tempe Daily News Invitational meet. Casa Grande came out with a number eleven ranking after the meet.

"We worked hard this year to beat everyone we could," stated Louis Garza. This was the first year of head coaching for Bill Allen, a former cross country runner.

Swimmers swim year round to get ready for season

Stroke, stroke, stroke," coach Jim Quinlan would yell when the boys' swimming team would practice.

"Move your arms faster, faster, faster," he would also yell. The team would practice everyday after school in the heated Central Arizona College pool. Many hours were spent there. Some of the team members practiced at 5:00 a.m. a few days. David Hernandez, John Berryhill and Milo Hardt practiced several times in the morning to improve their swimming abilities. "Boy, that water sure was cold. If the pool wasn't heated, we would have frozen stiff," stated junior David Hernandez.

The team had only two seniors this season. It consisted mainly of underclassmen. Several of the members swam in Amateur Athletic Union competition all year round. That enabled them to be in practice for high school competition. Coach Jim Quinlan was also a coach for the AAU team. The team started off to a winning start. They amassed a 3-1 record after their first three swimming meets. They won their first two meets against Chandler and Arcadia. They lost against Gilbert on their third outing. Swimmers David Hernandez and D.J. Billingsley swam year round and competed regularly in AAU meets.

Relay team swims at State competition

The Girls' Swimming team sent their 400 free relay team to State competition this season. The team consisted of sophomores Eileen Misunas and Jeanea Andriano, juniors Karen Davis and Jeannie Vandenberg. The girls qualified with a time of 4:16.7. After the State finals, the girls walked off with fourteenth place in the state. The team this season consisted of 6 freshmen, 2 sophomores, 8 juniors and 3 seniors.

"The team should be pleased with their performances. They did a super job. Next year will be better with the very strong freshmen group," commented Coach Diane Branstrom.

Many new records were set this season. Eleven old records were replaced by new ones set by the young 1978 team. The relay team set new times in the 200 yard medley relay.

A new record of 2:12.45 was set. The second relay team set a new school record in the 200 meter medley relay with a time of 2:27. The first relay team also set records in the 400 yard and 400 meter free relay. The times were 4:58.4 and 4:16.7 respectively. Senior Kyle Conner set new school records in 100 yard and 100 meter backstroke, with times of 1:27.1 and 1:16.8. Junior Karen Davis set a new record in the 200 meter free with a time of 2:23.45. Sophomore Jeanea broke the old school record in the 50 yard free in 30.1. Another sophomore, Eileen Misunas, swam to a new record of 27.6 in the 50 meter free.

Students participate in other sports

Some people sit around saying "there's nothing to do". But there is always something to do if you are active in personal sports.

Some people have even gone as far as to become professional at their personal sport, such as Alven "Bud" Brashier, one of the top Moto-Cross racers in the state. Sponsored by Apache Honda of Mesa, Bud participates in 36 races a year, and that runs into a lot of money. His bike alone was $1500.00; then there are supplies and an entry fee of $15 per race.

An added expense was when Bud broke his neck during a race, Moto-Cross is the second most physically demanding sport in the world. Bud has raced all over Arizona and in Mexico, which was an honor. Americans can only race through an invitation. Commenting on Mexico, Bud had this to say: "They treat you like a celebrity down there. They really think you are something like you're crazy to race motorcycles, but they love it."

Another thing that was an experience for him were the people of Mexico, "They'd never seen blonde hair," he commented.

The terrain in our area is perfect for Moto-Cross and another form of personal sports, 4-Wheeling. A Four-Wheel-Drive truck is sometimes thought of as a sort of tank. It goes over mountains, through sand, and fords it's way through mud bogs, (sometimes not making it.), and is the primary equipment for what seems to be one of Casa Grande's favorite sports. After a heavy rain, just look around the parking lots, everything has turned 4WD.

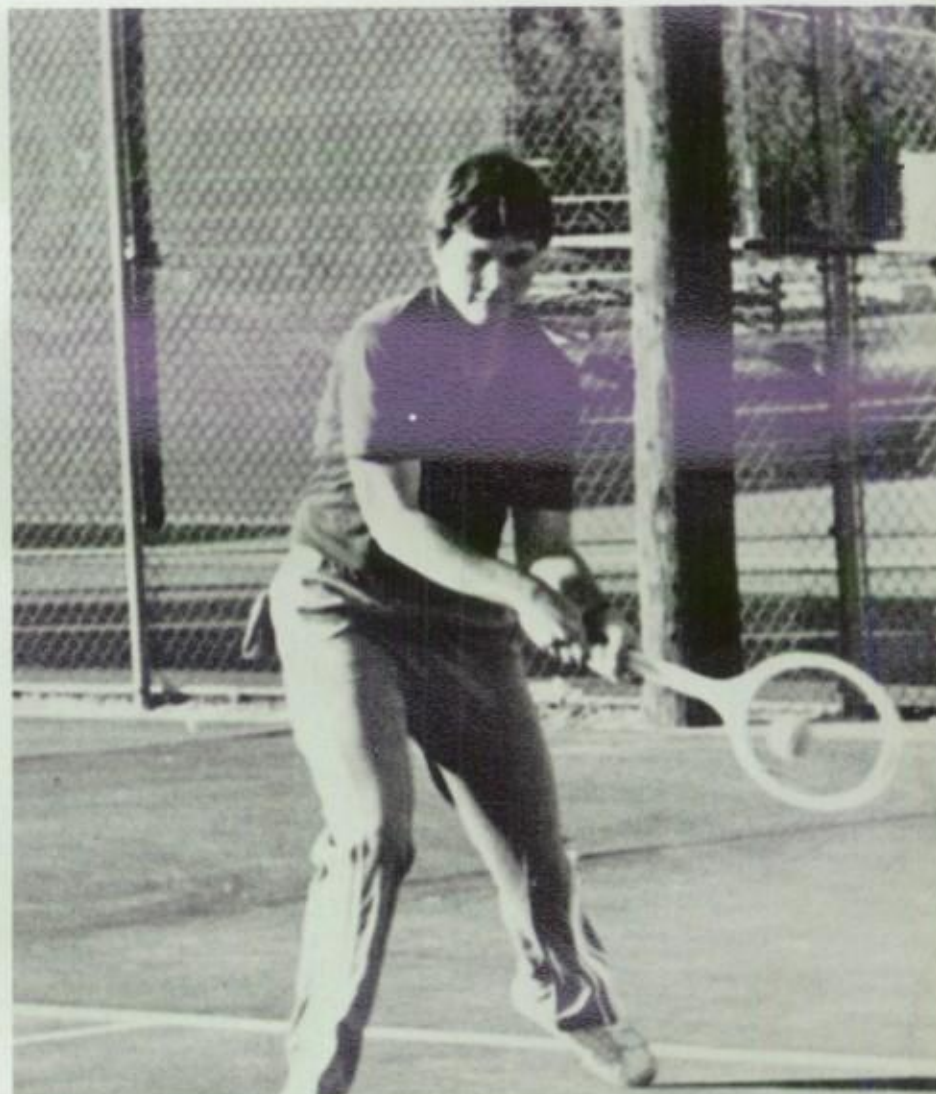

Machinery isn't necessary for personal sports, some students have become active in equestrian sports.

Susan Castonguay has been riding several years and is active on the horse show circuit, riding in English classes.

Misty Diwan is also active on horseback, but in a different phase. Junior Rodeo competition is a tough personal sport that requires long hours of practice and a steady communication between horse and rider. This paid off for Misty, who received all-around honors at the Florence Junior Parade this year. Jeff and Chad Whisenhunt are also into Rodeo, participating in Bull Riding Contests. Jeff is striving to be one of the best at his personal sport, reaching the Arizona Junior Rodeo Association (AJRA) finals at the state fair this year. While there he won the first go-round and placed in the top 10 for the state. Casa Grande sported many winning sports this year, but some of them were personal ones.

Volleyball teams Improve

I feel in order for us to compete at our level now, we must have a freshmen program. We need a coach for the freshmen team along with a coach for the junior varsity team. This year we were competing with one coach for two volleyball teams. In view of that fact, I feel that the team had an excellent season! Our record did not show that, but given our situation, I feel as though it was successful," commented Coach Mary Slavin. "This years seniors improved tremendously compared to last years. The people I'm talking about, are Patty Brewer, Lee Ann Jeffers and Helen Decker. We played without Rosie Toler because of her knee injury and that hurt us. I'm hoping the coaching situation will get better by next year because we could have a winning program here," said Coach Slavin. "Tami Livermon improved the most for us this season, therefore she was awarded the Most Improved Player Award at the fall athletic banquet. I had a tough time deciding who should get the Most Valuable Player Award but in the end I decided on Ruthell King," added Ms. Slavin.

Gymnasts swing into action

The Girls' Gymnastics team put in a lot of practice time this season to get ready for their eight meet seasonal competition.

The girls opened their season on the road at Yuma against the Yuma Criminals. Their season ended at home against the Mesa Jackrabbits. The A League Divisionals rolled around on May fourth with many hopefuls from Casa Grande that competed with others to get a shot at state competition. The team was cut into two squads consisting of Varsity and Junior Varsity girls. It was the second year for a Junior Varsity team in Gymnastics at this school. It was the backup team for the Varsity Squad. Their responsibility was to back up and to replace any member of the Varsity squad that was hurt or could not compete. They also challenged their teammates for a spot on the first squad. They practiced alongside their Varsity teammates and had to do the same routines with them. Practices were two a day for a few months. The girls started practice at 5:30 in the morning and had afternoon practice at 2:30 till 5:00.

"The competition was fierce for a spot on the Varsity squad this season. I referred to my first team as the "Dirty Dozen", commented Coach Diane Branstrom. "This is my third year of coaching the team and it keeps on getting better every year", replied Coach Branstrom. "I have a lot of confidence in my team and hope to send a few of them to the state competition and bring home some of the top places," quoted Coach Branstrom.

Cougars get knocked out Cougars lose in divisionals

We came so close," commented Coach Mary Slavin. She was referring to the divisional playoffs. The Casa Grande Cougar Softball team made it to the divisional playoffs only to be knocked off by the Saguaro Sabrecats. The Sabrecats went to the state playoffs, the Cougars went home to the showers. "I was really pleased with the playing that we did this season. I was really impressed with the catching of Freshman Roxanne Gallo. If she can play that good as a freshman, I know she can really play great by time she is a senior. I really appreciated the coaching of Coach Nancy Hebert. The girls got a lot coaching down on the junior varsity level. Two years we have made it to the divisionals and two years we have been knocked off. Maybe next year we won't getted knocked off at the end. I was really glad to get Rosie Toler back in a uniform. Her knees held up this year and she was really a big help to us this season. After four years, it is about time she got well enough to help us," stated Coach Slavin. Bad weather plagued the Cougar team all season long. It rained on many practice which cut down on the team's practice time.

"The rains really hurt us. I think we could have done better if we could have practiced more together," said senior Rosie Toler.

Lack of participation hurts frosh wrestlers; J.V. Softball gets a new coach

Lack of participation or a lack of hard work really hurt us this season. I think if my kids would have worked harder we would have come out with a better record at the end of the season," commented frosh wrestling Coach. "I really got a lot of hard work out of a few members of my squad. The most hard working were Chad Whisenhunt, Warren Edwards, Manuel Apodaca and Dann Apodaca. There were some kids that didn't come out that I thought should have. They would of really helped the team, but if they are not willing to sacrifice the time and work, we can't use them," quoted Coach Larry Faust.

The Junior Varsity Softball was guided under a new coach this season. Coach Nancy Hebert was awarded the position along with her teaching contract. It was Coach Hebert's first year of coaching softball. "We had some good times and some bad times. We had some good times and some bad times. We all worked hard this year to overcome our inexperience. We stuck together and practiced everyday. With the knowledge we gained, we can expect to have a winning team next year," commented Coach Hebert.

Cougar grapplers compete with quality, not quantity

We just didn't have enough people interested in wrestling this year to have a good sturdy team to compete with, "announced head Coach Rodney Purdom. The Casa Grande wrestling was plagued with a lack of participation this season. The squad had only three Seniors on it. They were Orlando Mena, Rey Bussari and Wally Jones. Several members of last year's squad did not show up for tryouts. Junior Chester Collins did not start practicing until halfway through the season because of a football injury. Senior Duane Gamez also did not wrestle because of a football injury.

"Although, I would not underestimate the rest of the squad, Junior Carlos Hernandez came through with the best record of the season with only one defeat. For getting six wins, I awarded him his first Golden Grappler. Senior Rey Bussari was awarded his second Grappler award in his career here this season. Rey did a fine job for us all four seasons that he wrestled here, said Coach Purdom.

Three people qualified at divisionals this season. Senior Rey Bussari was disqualified from going to state on a controversial call while Carlos Hernandez and Orlando Mena went.

Junior varsity cross country keeps pace; Frosh A suffers

Coach Bill Allen commented, "I was really proud of my junior varsity runners this season. They all put a lot of hard work in trying to compete alongside their varsity teammates. Any one of them could have run varsity, but I only had room for a few runners on the varsity team. I was really impressed with the progress that Joe Cardenas made. He'll be a strong runner for us next year. It was my first year of working with these guys and it was really enjoyable as well as educational for me. I am going to expect a lot out of Bob Hardin and Joel Henness next year because they will be seniors then.

Competing with the girls this season was a new experience for me. I think that the thought of having to run against the girls made our guys run that much faster so they wouldn't get beat out by a girl. Even though a few of them did get beat by a few of those girls!" The Freshmen A basketball team didn't fair as well this season. The Cougar kittens lost more than they won.

Freshmen Ricky Molnar stated, "We really got into shape under the direction of Coach Rascon. The team got along as a whole pretty well. I liked playing football better.

B Team sharpshooters score while Junior Varsity slows down

The Freshmen B Basketball team toted an average record for this season. One of the most exciting wins for the squad came at the hands of the Kino A basketball team in overtime. The score was tied at the end of the game. After an overtime period, the Frosh B ballers came out on top by two points. The team lost two close games by one point apiece against the Coronado Dons and the Marcos de Niza Padres. The Cougar kittens destroyed the Fremont Junior High team by forty-six points. Another exciting game for the squad was the Saguaro matchup. The B team came out on top 61-42. The team lost another close one in another overtime game to the Rhodes Junior High basketball team. The Junior Varsity Basketball team had a rough season. The team was under the direction of Coach Ron Kleinman who was also the Varsity assistant coach. The highlight of the season came during the Mesa game. The Cougar squad outrebounded and outscored the Mesa Jackrabbits. The score at the final buzzer was 74-52 in favor of the Cougars. The team also had another exciting win. After a long road trip to Yuma, the Cougars played the Criminals. The Casa Grande team came out on top by two points at the buzzer, 54-52.

Cougars win A-League championship

Hoar, Gilder dominate court

Seniors Kenny Hoar and Jim Gilder practically rewrote the school basketball records during the 19-6 season in which Casa Grande won a league championship, finished third in the Hobbs, New Mexico Invitational Tournament, and earned a state tournament berth by placing third in the divisional playoffs. Both players scored 36 points in a single game—Gilder breaking the old mark first against Saguaro and Hoar duplicating the feat against Mesa. Hoar established new marks for most field goals in a game (13), most points in a quarter (15), and most points in a half (29) this season. The 6-foot-5 inside man set the most free throws made in a game (19). Gilder, 6-foot-2, broke the school mark for rebounds in a game by grabbing 31 against Saguaro. He carried an average of 17 points per game and an average of 13.1 rebounds per outing. Hoar carried an average of 19.8 points per game and 10 rebounds every time he hit the floor. Hoar and Gilder were named to the all-league and all-division basketball teams by coaches of the AAA-Central Division. Hoar finished second in voting in the all-division voting and was the top vote getter on the all league team. Gilder was a close second in the league and finished third in the balloting in the division. The Cougars also placed junior Randy Robbins on the A-League honorable mention list. Robbins, played wing had a 9.7 scoring average. The Casa Grande Cougars were knocked out of the state playoffs by the Phoenix Union Coyotes by a score of 57-62.

Golf loses junior varsity team

The Casa Grande Union High School fielded another Golf team this season. The team practiced all year long to get ready for their Spring seasonal competition. The team suffered a loss when Junior David Milne moved to Tucson.

"David really helped us out a lot last year. He had improved quite considerably over the summer and we had counted on him to help us in competition this year," stated Coach David Linley.

The team practiced after school out at the Francisco Grande Golf Resort. All home meets were played there also. The team only fielded one Senior this season, Jerry Verhey was the only returning Junior from last year's squad. Due to a lack of participation, the team was forced to drop the junior varsity Golf team this season. Last year's team had a junior varsity team for the freshmen and the sophomores. The squad consists of all four grades this season instead of having two different teams. Golf was forced to rely on the underclassmen for the first time in several years. The team had a number of sophomores who had played on the team before, and proved themselves capable of competing with the older guys.

Boys' tennis program carries average season

The boys' tennis program played average in comparison with previous teams. The Cougars dropped their first match of the season against the Mt. View Toros. But they evened their record at 1-1 by doubling the score on Coronado in a 6-3 victory. In that match, the two top singles seeds lost for the Cougars, as we well as the No. 1 doubles team. "We should improve as the season rolls on. By then most of the players will have more experience in competition with better players. I think we will have a winning season if we improve our style of play," commented senior William McKinley.

One of the most exciting points of the season was in the McClintock match. The Cougars lost a 5-4 heartbreaker to the McClintock Chargers on the deciding point in the match. The two teams were tied 4-4, with the Casa Grande No. 2 doubles team of Ed Granger and Jeff Burns battled to an 8-8 pro set tie with their opponents. The tiebreaker went to 4-4, but the Chargers duo won the last point to defeat the Cougars.

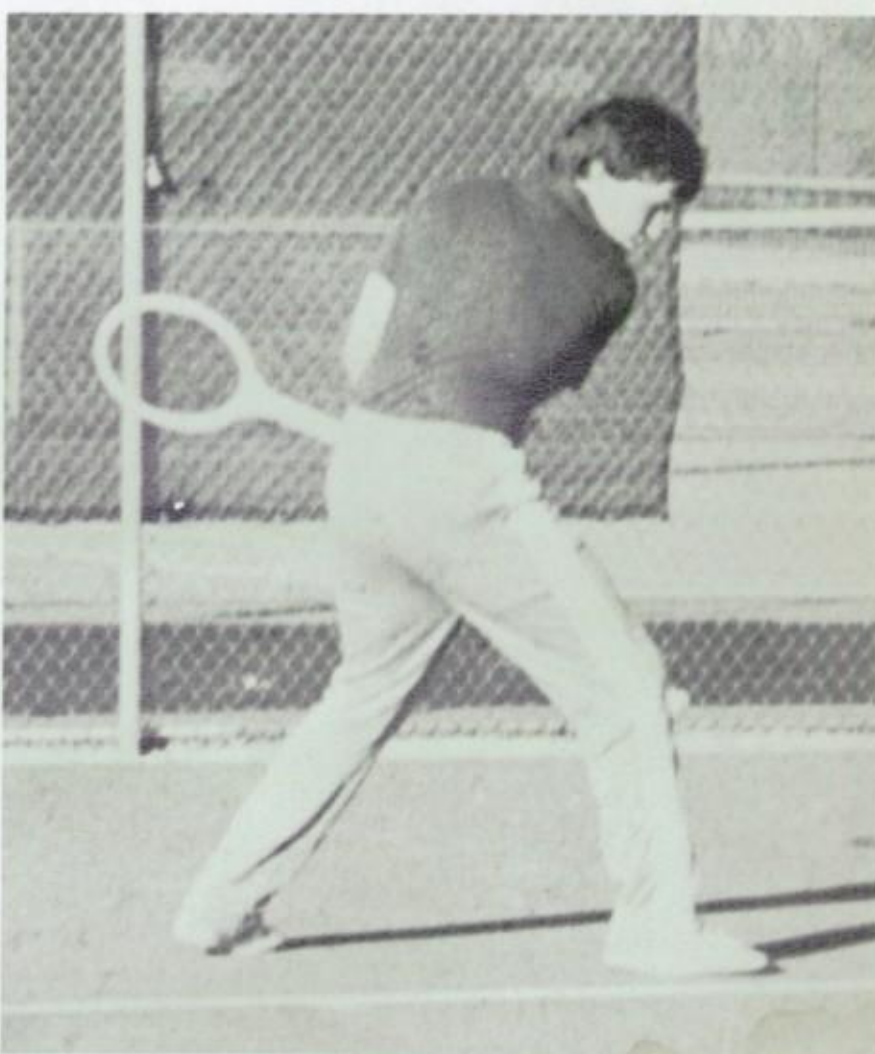

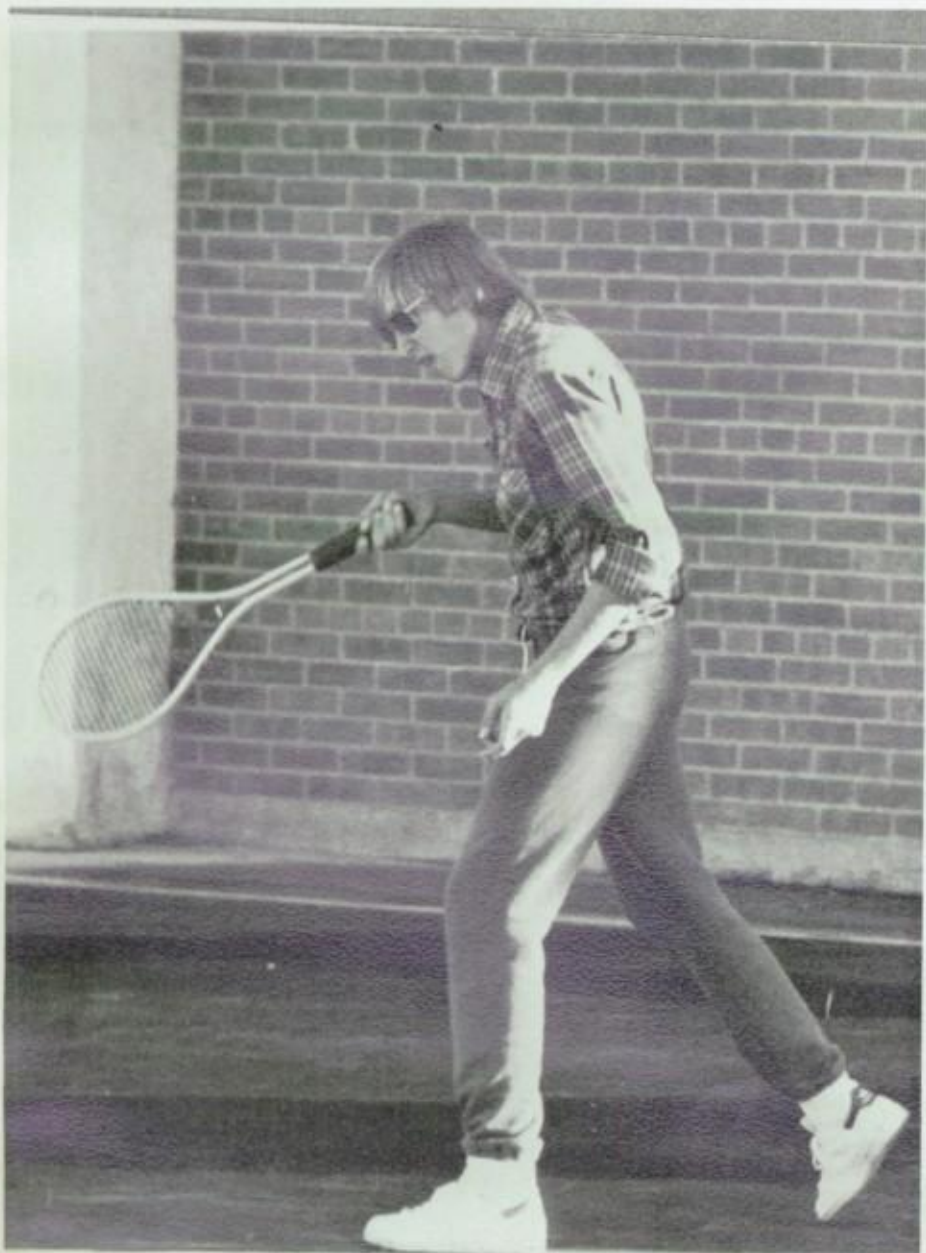

"It wasn't very pleasant," said a disappointed Coach Tony Ivins. The team kept a roster of Kent Kortsen, William McKinley, Ed Granger, Warren Holden, Joel Hennes and Jeff Burns most of the season.

Girls win tennis marathon match

The first win of the season for the varsity girls' tennis team came in the match against Coronado. It took part of the day and part of the night, a marathon three-hour singles victory by Jenny Coxon, and a two out of three edge by the doubles units for the Casa Grande High School girls' tennis team to produce their first win of the season against Coronado. But the Cougar girls did what they had to do, finally emerging with a 5-4 victory, and evened their season record to 1-1 at that point in the season. The Casa Grande junior varsity came through also, taking a convincing 7-2 win over Coronado. The Cougars didn't fare so well against their next foe, the McClintock Chargers.

"We lost 6-3 to the Tempe Racquet Club, also known as McClintock High School," stated girls' tennis Coach Margaret Leard after she watched her Cougars lose their second match of the season.

"The first four players we saw were members of the Tempe Racquet Club," she explained.

"It's hard to beat that kind of training."

The Yarsity team had only one senior on it this season. Shirley Avey was the only one. She has played in the tennis program for four years at this high school. Neomi Rascon played the No. 1 singles position as well as the No. 1 doubles team with Shannon Macey most of the season.

Boys' track runs with quality, not quantity

When the Casa Grande High School track teams opened their 1979 season, they were testing a theory—quality beats quantity.

Manuel Quintanar, head track coach for the boys said it first; "We wanted quality, people who can get us the points in the big meets. We're not worried about numbers; what we have out are good people."

Coach Quintanar counted on points from sprinters Ray Glass and Ray Crockett, quartermiler Bob Hardin, distance runners Manuel Hernandez, Louis Garza, and John Vega, weightmen Russ Means and Kris Evangelino, long jump artist Johnny Moore, and vaulter Steve Gater.

Quintanar was especially pleased with Ray Crockett, who is a junior, and Ray Glass, who is only a sophomore. "Those two worked hard," the Cougar coach praised, "It helped the others to see the work. Ray Crockett worked a lot harder on his own this year." The Cougar track squad consisted of only two teams this season. A varsity and a Junior Varsity team. There wasn't a frosh track team this season due to lack of participation. Senior Russ Means placed third in the discus at the University of Arizona with a toss of 141-11.

Gentle jocks use the same theory as the guys

The female Cougar track team also used the same theory that the boys' Track team did: Quality beats quantity. Kathy Markham, the girls' Track coach stated, "We're looking very good, even though we don't have a lot of depth. Everybody worked hard because we thought we could do a lot better than last year."

Coach Markham had state class tracksters in sprinters Donna Pittman, Sheila Williams, Stacy Warne and Edna Gilder, distance runner Carmen Garcia, and field event special lists Karen Davis, Irene Villareal, and Kathy Burk.

Among the Female cougars, Donna Pittman and Karen Davis stood out above all. Pittman established school records this season in the 220 yard dash and the 100 yard dash with times of 26.1 and 11.27 respectively. Davis, another school record holder, finished the season ranked among the state in the discus.

"She worked hard to win state," Markham commented. Davis also put the shot along with teammates Irene Villareal, Kathy Burk, Tami Schaffer and Sally Nymark."

Frosh team loses coach; J.V. gets a new coach

Freshmen baseball got off to a shakey start this season. Coach David Narramore broke his leg skiing the third week of practice and missed the first few games. Coach Jack Jones took over and led the team for the first week of competition. Coach Jones developed his own set of signals to be used in the games. The team referred to his signals as "Sick dog" signals. Coach Jones admitted, "I enjoy coaching. I like to have fun while I am coaching. That is why I use such out of place antics when I am leading a team. I think the team had fun under me and I enjoyed them. They may not have learned much, but they had fun trying."

The junior varsity baseball team also got a new coach, but it was for the whole season. Coach Pat McClellan took over the reins as head coach after Coach Joe Nix was promoted to assistant varsity baseball coach. Coach Pat Mc Clellan assisted Coach Clint Myers in leading the 1978 Cougar baseball team to the AAA state championship. The same team repeated the challenge by winning the A American Legion State Championship. Coach Joe Nix assisted Coach Myers in that feat. No team has ever won back to back state championships like the Cougars did. All 8 seniors that started last year are playing college ball somewhere. Senior Ricky Gamez was also drafted by the Detroit Tigers.

Can the Cougars repeat as State Champs?

Will Casa Grande repeat as state Class AAA prep baseball champions? The inevitable answer: Yes.

That's the opinion of Cougar head Coach Clint Myers, who fulfilled his pre-season prediction of a state title a year ago by guiding Casa Grande to their first-ever championship in 1978.

"Yes, it's within our realm to win state again," Myers offered as he began the second week of workouts. "But, it will be tougher this year because we lack experience." After a moment, he added, "Yeah, we're definitely a contender for the championship."

When you consider Myers was named AAA coach of the year after winning the state trophy in only his second season at Casa Grande with a 24-4 record, not to mention guiding the Cougars to two consecutive league championships, it's little wonder most pre-season predictions will agree with his assessment. But, if the Cougars manage to put together back-to-back championships, it won't be done in quite the same way, Myers predicted.

"It will be different from last year," he said, "but not by choice. We're having to adjust to what we have to work with, utilize our strengths and realize our weaknesses." This year's team will rely more often on the bunt, steal, hit-and-run, and a sound defense.

Teachers need a break

It's sometimes funny that students take teachers for granted. One thing that is heard often is "Mr. So & So is so easy! I took one of his tests yesterday and he gave me an "A". What this student doesn't realize is that Mr. So & So doesn't give "A's", you have to earn them by working and studying. If teachers went around "giving" students A's, there wouldn't be any point in students going to school.

Whether or not we realize it, teachers are often put in a bind by students. For example one conversation that is common: "Mr. So & So, I've worked hard all year long and you know I've done all my work, but somehow I'm three points away from an "A". Please give me the three points, so my parents won't kill me". "Well, Student "X", says teacher, "I don't think it would be fair for me to give you three points more, when I can't give them to anyone else. People would think I'm playing favorites with you.

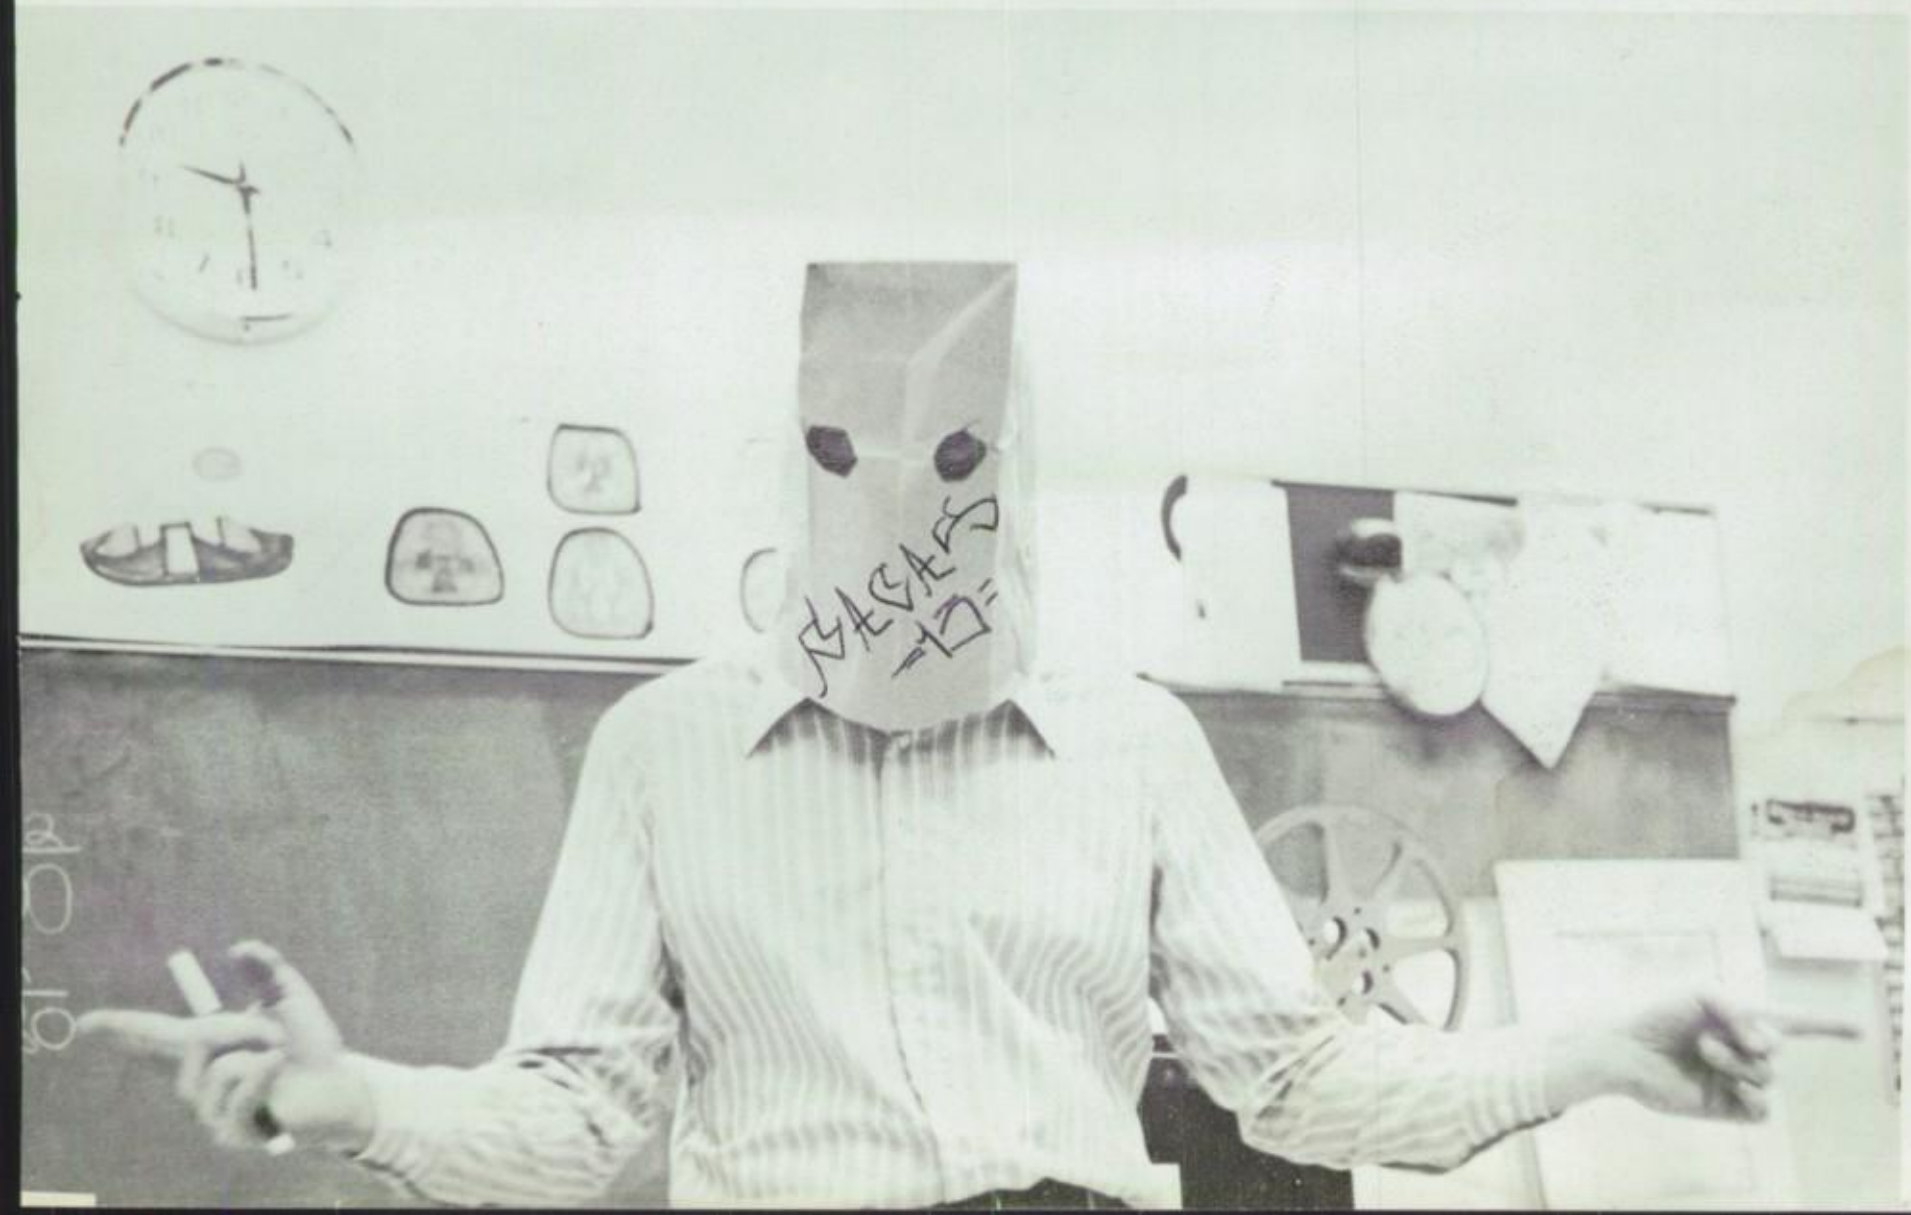

So student "X" is out of an "A" by three points and Mr. So & So feels like a first class ham. But the teachers have to do their job.

Never a dull moment

I am always busy. It was a big change from vice-principal to principal. The amount of paperwork is unbelievable. And I love every minute of it," commented Principal David Evers.

Mr. Evers is a native of Illinois. He attended Union University, Miss. where he graduated and received his degree in Educational Administration.

Before becoming principal, Mr. Evers was vice-principal for six years. "I enjoy working with Mr. Boone and Mr. Cooper," he said.

Mr. Dan Boone is vice-principal in charge of discipline. Mr. Boone was a science teacher at the Junior High school before he came to CGUHS.

"A large majority of the students are super. The small majority is my job" commented Mr. Boone. He went on to say, "It's a pretty darn good student body."

Mr. Jim Cooper is vice-principal in charge of attendance. For the two previous years he had been principal at San Manuel High School. He was chosen by Mr. Evers to come and work here at CGUHS.

"It's been very exciting here. There are twice as many students and they take more pride in their campus," said Mr. Cooper. He also added, "I enjoy working with Mr. Boone, Mr. Evers and Mr. Russum. They're super people."

Plunkett, Huff, Dobson retire

It's been most enjoyable," commented Mr. Robert Plunkett. He is referring to his experience here at CGUHS.

Mr. Plunkett, along with Mr. Kenneth Dobson, and Mr. Max Huff, is retiring this year after a lengthy stay. Mr. Plunkett began here in 1948 (which is the same year that Loren Curtis and Al Van Hazel started. Mr. Curtis has since past away, but Mr. Van Hazel is still going strong). There was only the main building then and Mr. Plunkett was kept very busy.

Mr. Plunkett taught for five years and in 1953 he became head of the counseling department.

His degrees include a B.A. and an M.A. from the University of Colorado. He has taught at U of A and the University of Florida.

Although Mr. Plunkett has led a busy life, he plans to lead a quiet retirement in Payson. "It has a nice climate and it's very healthy," said Mr. Plunkett.

Mr. Kenneth Dobson, sophomore counselor, is also retiring. He started teaching here in 1957 after teaching 14 years at Ohio. He began his career here by teaching chemistry, physics, general science, physical science and algebra.

His degrees include a Bachelor of Science Education from Ohio State University and a Master of Education from Kent State University.

His retirement plans include staying at his home on Morrison Avenue and spending more time with his grandchildren.

After being asked to describe his experience here he replied, "In general, it's been an experience of learning to become a professional educator. I've watched the school almost triple it's enrollment."

Mr. Max Huff, agriculture and Co-op teacher, is retiring after 20 years of teaching here at CGUHS.

Mr. Huff is originally from Michigan where he attended Michigan State University. A very strong Southern Baptist, Mr. Huff plans to go to Africa after his retirement and do missionary work there for as long as he can. "I enjoy helping people in any way that I can. And by doing missionary work I think I can be helping the best way I know how," commented Mr. Huff. He also said, "I've enjoyed working with the students here and CGUHS. I'm gonna miss them."

ood things never die; they just get better."

Sound familiar? It should!

It's an old proverb, which to this day is used over and over again.

Someone once said, "Casa Grande is a good thing." True. But since 1879, Casa Grande has bettered most or all of its good things.

Just to name one, there is the ever-popular summer hangout: the swimming pool. Many years ago it was just a hole in the ground filled with water. Improvements came along and it progressed into a concrete-filled hole.

Another "good thing" was when the T.V. came along. People decided they wanted something more, so they created the theatres. That was a real good thing until someone decided they wanted to be able to see the movie while sitting in their car. So along came the drive-in. Casa Grande now has T.V.'s in 80% of the homes and two theatres and one drive-in.

As long as there are inventors, Casa Grande will keep improving.

Brown, Partain, Molina receive awards

It seems that CGUHS will never run out of award-winning teachers. Last year it was Mr. Rascon and Mr. Russum, now this year it's Miss Brown, Mr. Molina and Mr. Partain.

"To teach each child to think logically and creatively has been my goal as a teacher for fourteen years. Learning is a lifetime process and should be regarded by each student as an exciting lifetime adventure in education" said Miss Dorothea Brown, English and Advanced Placement teacher, placed third among 112 applicants in the Teacher of the Year contest sponsored by the State Board of Education in Phoenix.

Faculty members had to nominate all the teachers entering the contest. The requirements of nomination were skills, knowledge, dedication and had to be highly professionally oriented.

Miss Brown has been teaching at CGUHS for 14 years. During that time she has taught students at all levels from the second Session, to the Advanced Placement classes for the achievers in English.

"A teacher should be a liaison from student to family, to community, as an ambassador for education the teacher becomes the heartbeat for education in the concerned community for past educational accomplishments, present educational needs," commented Miss Brown.

This years' recommendation for AIASA state advisor of the year award is Mr. David Molina.

Orlando Mena, State High School representative, and Lonnie Garcia, local chapter President, submitted Mr. Molina's name in the competition. After going through all the entries, the judges awarded Mr. Molina the State Advisor of the Year.

Once starting the first AIASA Industrila Arts club at CGUHS, he served on the committee that formed the state chapter and involved students in the beginning automotive area in activity work days to prepare for further training in advanced automotive mechanics. For the community of Casa Grande, he assisted in the student-police work program, and promoted work on cars in the community.

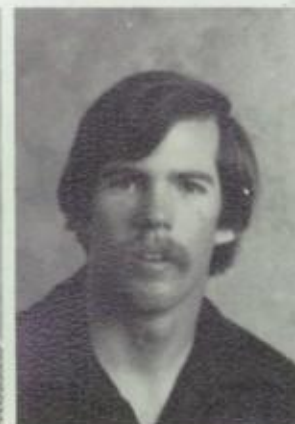

Joe Partain, coach of the Cougar Basketball team received an unexpected surprise at the Hobbs Tournament. He received the Sam Stratton Sportsmanship award. He was presented a plaque at the last game of the tournament. After accepting he said, "I was pleased and very surprised." To win this award, a coach must demonstrate good coaching sportsmanship. Later Partain admitted, "I didn't think I would win." Partain arrived in Casa Grande in 1978 and took the Cougars to divisionals.

Title I reading 'looking good'

The two new Title I teachers are young and enthusiastic and are doing a very good job," said Mrs. Nancy McEvoy. She is talking of Mr. John Mateja, and Mr. Dean Irgens.

Mrs. McEvoy is in charge of the Title I Reading Program which is open to students in grades 9 through 12 who have practical English classes. Students who work under one to one basics make better than average gains.

The reading program has two fulltime aides, which include Mrs. Hovis and Mrs. Etheredge. The classes are kept small so that students can receive individual attention.

"This year is going great because the reading department has the whole top floor of building one," commented Mrs. McEvoy. "I hope that next year will go just as well or better." Right now things are looking good!

What's one word that can describe the secretaries, the janitors, the cafeteria workers and the librarians?

Helpful!

Who do you go see when you have to know where something is? Who always has time to see you when someone else doesn't? The secretaries!

Who do you go see when your locker is jammed and you can't get it open? Who do you go to see when you need a special kind of bolt or screw for your art project that you've been working on for weeks, and suddenly find out you bought the wrong bolt? The custodians!

When you've got the munchies at lunch but you only have 75¢ to splurge, who can help you with this problem? The cafeteria workers!

When you are one article short for your project, who knows "just where to find it?" The librarians!

Whether you realize it or not, these four groups of people are a valuable asset to CGHS.

CLASSES

- With all the new rules and administration in the school this year, the students had to put up with all the changes. Some examples of the changes are as follows:
1. Admits were not required.
 2. No phone calls or notes were required.
 3. Three tardies equalled one absence.
 4. Students were marked absent for not being in class even though it was a school sponsored activity.
 5. Special guidelines were set:
 - a. 5 days absent per semester, note to the parents.
 - b. 10 days absent per semester, 2nd note to parent.
 - c. 15 days absent per semester, 3rd note to parents.
 - d. Upon the twentieth (20) day absent from any class the student will receive a letter.

At the beginning of the year Mr. Evers went around to all the classrooms explaining that the new system was not meant to hurt anyone just the students who came to school to learn.

-Senior PROFILE Rochelle Cooper

FS Student Rochelle Cooper took advantage of our foreign exchange program this year, she traveled to Brazil. Rochelle stayed with the American Dos Reis family. They live in Bauru which is in Sao Paulo State. School in Brazil is completely different than school here. For one thing they don't have electives. Instead, the school is set up in three different areas; math, science, and languages. Rochelle was in the math groups. She had five math classes. Rochelle had eleven subjects. The name of the school is Christins Cabral. Rochelle said the views the Brazilian people hold of the U.S. are very high. They like the U.S., especially our television.

Brazilian language is Portuguese. Watching the Waltons in Portuguese is hilarious! Rochelle can speak Portuguese fluently. "The hardest part is the verbs. With every person there is a special verb. Its complicated but I got used to it," Rochelle commented. The best part of Brazil is the family life. Almost everyone has a maid. The Brazilian teenagers life is extremely care-free and easy.

Senior Class officers kept busy

With Joe Lassuy as President, it proved to be a very successful year for the Senior Class officers. Although they didn't have to worry about the prom this year, they had plenty of activities to keep them busy.

As one of their key events, they had a canned food drive to help the needy and disabled. They collected over 200 cans of food and were well-praised.

To add to the canned food drive, they sold Cougar buttons, candy, shirts and the usual suckers. "They did a remarkable job," stated Mr. Mitchell.

Senior PROFILE William McKinley

William McKinley, a very science-minded person has been involved in many clubs and has received many awards.

"I became interested in science through the effort of an excellent teacher I had in 7th grade. Science was fascinating and I've been interested ever since. This is when I decided I would become involved in medicine in some way."

William hopes to attend Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland. There he plans to major in Chemical Engineering. Besides the love of science, William has also found tennis an interesting sport.

In 1977 William placed first in boys' singles in Casa Grande. 1978 seemed to go along just as well; he placed first in boys' doubles at the Casa Grande Open. He also became the number 1 player in the boys' varsity tennis team. He became involved in tennis in the seventh grade.

He is an active member of NHS, scored 94 on the PSAT, 30 on ACT test, and has received various Optimist Awards. In November William earned Elks Student of the month for his outstanding English achievements.

At 8:00 every morning the CGUHS Marching Band practices under the direction of senior, Mark Richmond. "If everyone in the band had as much dedication as Mark, it would be the number one band in Arizona," stated Rob Tackett. Besides practices every Monday and Thursday night to make the show a top 100%. Mark writes most of the band's march patterns. "This may sound easy, but when you have to account for seventy people on the field this becomes a hard job." When Mark was asked if he liked being a drum major he replied, "It is very rewarding at times. It gave me a chance to find out things about myself things I didn't know."

Although it caused me to lose a lot of things I didn't want to lose, I hope I'm a little more wiser from the experience." Mark has been in for four years and he got interested in being a drum major last year. He didn't have to try out for the position for he was the only one who wanted the job. When asked if he would continue music in college, he said, "I plan to be involved in music but I probably won't make a career of it." In closing the interview Mark added that, "I got a lot of support from everyone in band and I really appreciate it. I hope I haven't caused anyone any hard feelings. Being in band has made my senior year profitable."

PRO FILE

Rosie Toler

Not even a knee injury has kept Rosie Toler from playing softball. If anything it has helped her, says Rosie. "The problem I've had with my knee have helped me. When I play with a little pain it keeps me going. The pain reminds me that I may never walk unto another softball field again. Consequently, I don't give the game 100%, I give it 110%. Rosie underwent knee surgery this year, during the softball season. "Chances are that my knee will be fine, but I have accepted the fact that I may never play sports again." If everything turns out all right with her knee, Rosie plans to go to a junior college on a softball scholarship. "I want to go to college and become a physical Education teacher. My dream has always been, to come back to Casa Grande and teach with Miss Slavin. "Miss Slavin has inspired me to play in sports. She has always encouraged and pushed me to be better; better in sports and to be a better person."

Her sophomore year she made varsity softball as a second baseman. She also went to the archery divisional, and was the manager of the volleyball team. In her junior year she started girls basketball in our school. Rosie was presented a special award for her efforts in establishing a girls basketball team. Putting sports aside, Rosie is an honor roll student. She achieved an academic letter in her Junior year. Golfing, gardening, backpacking, photography, and writing are some of her other interests. "I can spend hours writing letters and just writing." Does Rosie ever get upset over losing a game or when a referee makes a bad call? "Learning to accept bad calls is part of the game. When we play, we don't play against nine girls. We play against eleven people. Two of them are the referees!" "Of course I get upset when we lose a game. Maybe disappointed is a better word. Because if we lose its because we weren't applying ourselves 100%. When we do, we can beat anyone. Our team is based on attitude."

Alex dislikes the heat in summer, but he states, "It's neat to have the experience of living in a desert area."

Finding a few differences in the life of the people, Alex explains, "the concept of boys dating girls doesn't exist, and we don't comb our hair every ten minutes." He also finds that the high school in Spain is much harder.

Alex has been active in AFS Club, and played "Dracula" in the school play in October. In Spain he played soccer, table tennis and was involved in a poetry group. He also played several instruments.

Upon returning to San Sebastian, Alex plans to study composition and music.

PROFILE

Melissa Wisner

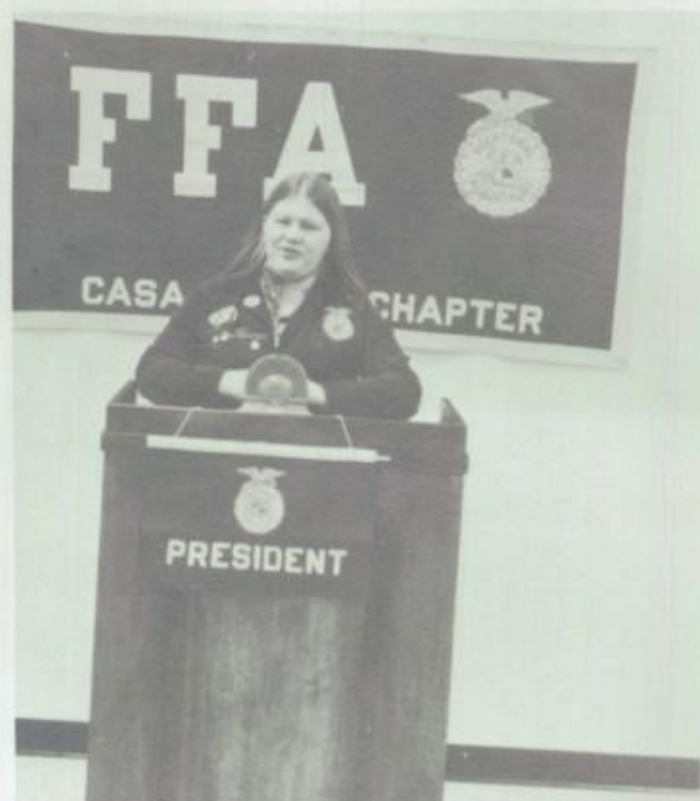

FFA provides leadership not only used in agriculture but in all walks of life. FFA is not just plows and cows but many, many opportunities are open to you. Public speaking, meets judging, and salesmanship are just a few," said Melissa Wisner.

Melissa has been active in Future Farmers of America (FFA) all of her school career.

"I had always wanted to be a veterinarian. I saw that the agriculture department offered an animal science class."

She also was a member of the National Honor Society her junior and senior years. Melissa was very active in the marching and symphonic band during her freshman, sophomore and senior years.

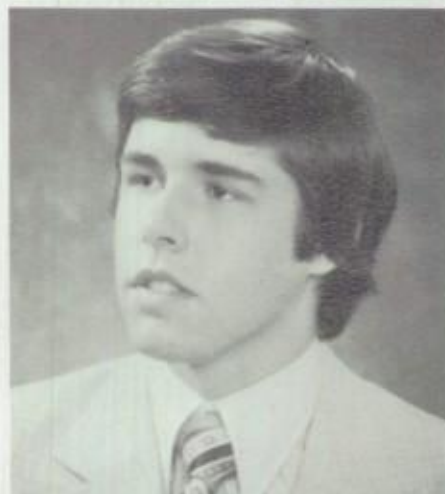

"FFA provides a sense of logic. Careful planning is learned through working in agriculture related fields! Besides, on out of ever three people are involved in agriculture related fields. So a touch of agriculture will help almost anyone." Melissa commented. Melissa's future plans are to be a veterinarian.

Joe and Demetrias crowned

'Advertise the Cougars' was this year's theme for Homecoming and it proved to be "different."

With Mary Ann O'Donnell and Joe Lassuy in charge, Homecoming was a day (and night) to remember. Capturing the honors of king and queen were Joe Lassuy and Demetrias Dixon (in that order). Although Joe was chosen king, he still has one regret. "I wish I could have been playing on the field during the game, but I am honored that I was chosen king."

As for the preparations of Homecoming, that was left up to Mary Ann and Joe. "Joe was in the hospital most of the time so I really had a lot of work to do. It kept me very busy and I found myself always tired," said Mary Ann. But after being asked if she would do it again, she replied, "I'd definitely do it again. It was fun."

Although most people would agree that everything turned out o.k., there were a few exceptions, which were none other than David Fitzgibbons and Grant Walton. "It was great but we got taken advantage of because the best float didn't win." The "Support Your Local Cougar" float, was the float in question.

Diane Cornelius was selected to perform with the Continental Singers, who "share God's love through song," to people around the world. The Continental Singers will travel to Europe and tour England, Iceland, Scotland, and Holland.

Involved in a great number of school activities, Diane participated in chorale, Blue Notes and in all district and state choir. She also competed on the swim team and had the lead role in the musical "All American."

Diane is very excited about her trip. "I know I will really enjoy myself because I have always enjoyed traveling and investigating new places," she explained. "Along with being excited, I'm also very nervous." Diane will probably be the youngest member of the Continental Singers.

Miss Shipp and Mr. Day encouraged her to sing for the public. "Miss Shipp gave me my first solo in my freshman year. This helped a great deal in building my confidence. Mr. Day also played a big part as the director of my church choir and other various choirs." Diana's parents also have been behind her 100%.

Attending college and majoring in performing vocal music are Diana's future plans.

Diane is shown practising singing for one of many concerts she gave to raise money for her tour of Europe.

Nancy Kerns

Nancy has been named a commended student in the 24th annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

This honor recognizes each student's outstanding performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, which was administered nation-wide to high school Juniors in October 1977. Nancy has participated as a member of the Pan Am club her Junior and Senior years. She was also in AFS, Graphics and FBLA. She competed in archery her sophomore year.

To increase their opportunities for college admission and financial aid,

NMSC has offered each commended student an opportunity to have identifying information sent by the corporation of true higher education institutions selected by the corporation to two higher education institutions selected by the student. In addition, NMSC makes it possible for regionally accredited U.S. colleges and universities to receive home addresses for commended students, on a cost basis so that an institution may contact any of these promising young men and women.

A total of almost 35,000 commended students throughout the United States are being honored by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Nancy's plans to enroll in college and possibly major in Business Administration.

"My high school years have been great. There have been many teachers whom have helped me. I owe them my 4.0 grade average," commented Nancy.

Nancy Kerns is presented an award for commended student from Principal Charles David Evers. She was named a commended student by the 24th annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

How many times have you dreamed of being a famous gymnast? How many times have you dreamed of being a famous dancer? Well, Jocelyn Coxon isn't famous yet, but she is well on her way.

With four years of experience to her credit, Jocelyn has made herself one of the top gymnasts on the varsity team. She has been on the team for all four of those years and credits her gymnastic talent to her dance background. "Having a strong dance background when I entered high school gymnastics was a way to incorporate my dance with tumbling which is the most physically challenging women's sport," she said.

As for Jocelyn's favorite event she states, "Floor exercise started out being my favorite event probably because it was and is the easiest for me. But the last two years, I've been working the balance beam and it is probably my favorite now; it's a challenge to narrow yourself down to four inches."

Along with gymnastics, Jocelyn is involved in cheerleading, Blue Notes, Chorale, 4-H and she played the lead in "Barefoot in the Park."

Jocelyn isn't a famous gymnast or famous dancer yet, but, by devoting a good percentage of her time and effort to making her dreams come true, she is well on her way.

(Above left) Jocelyn displays the perfect balance, muscle control and coordination necessary to perform and receive high scores on the balance beam.

Boy, Girl Staters

return after summer conventions

Once again a handful of seniors received the opportunity to compete in the 32nd annual Boys' and Girls' state. A few lucky seniors were interviewed in their junior year by the local American Legion Post and Auxiliary. From these, four boys and two girls were chosen to attend conventions at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff and University of Arizona in Tucson.

Boys' State

While the delegates were at Boy's and Girls' state, they were elected as officials for various countries. David Fitzgibbons was elected County Treasurer for Carlton City. He was a member of the Federalist party and along with the other delegates, got to meet important officials such as Governor Bruce Babbitt and Senator Dennis DeConcini. The convention must have been a worthwhile experience because David said, "I learned the most in one week there than I do in some classes for a whole semester." Of course, it wasn't all just work, for he also said, "It was fun."

Joe Lassuy was a member of the Nationalist party and was elected a House Representative for Poston County which is in the City of Miles. Unfortunately Joe had a few problems. "My jacket was stolen but I learned a lot about government and I met a lot of new friends."

Others attending the Boys' state convention were Russ Means and Kevin Sullivan.

Girls' State

Kristy Lunt, one of two delegated to Girls' State was elected Judge of the Superior Court of Supai County, Mesquite City. She was a member of the Nationalist party and was awarded outstanding court official. Kristy had something to say about Girls' State. "It was a fantastic experience. I met many people who will be my friends for life."

Becky Calahan who also attended the convention was a member of the Federalist party and was elected Representative to Cocopa County in Manzanita City. Becky has moved to Wyoming and so she is unavailable for comment. But, we also know she was second runner up to Girls' nation, which is a very high honor.

The week passed all too quickly and too soon it was time to return to Casa Grande with fond memories of the campaigning, caucusing, crying, praying and other experiences that made Girls' and Boys' State such a success. Girls' and Boys' State was an experience six C.G.U.H.S. students will long remember.

Grant Walton

How could you describe someone who has been quarterback of the football team for four years and has managed to maintain a 4.0 grade average throughout high school? Athletic? For sure! Scholastic? Definitely!

Who are we talking about? Grant D. Walton.

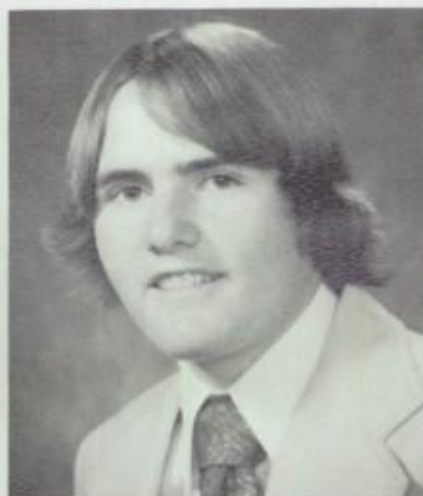

Grant is president of the National Honor Society, a member of the Key Club, Lettermen's Club, and was chosen Elk's student of the month for September. He was awarded a scholastic scholarship from the University of Arizona and is planning to major in veterinary medicine.

Although Grant has been active in wrestling and baseball, along with football, he's not sure if he is going to participate in sports once he gets to college. It's not that he has lost his interest in sports, it's just that he wants to dedicate his time to schoolwork. There's no doubt that Grant will miss it. "I've enjoyed it very much and I'm sure gonna miss it," stated Grant.

QUEER

Students experience many changes during their Junior year. Research papers, American History, and finally going to the JrSr Prom make a student's 3rd year of school unique from all others.

Of course, there are many other advantages to being a JUNIOR. Most enjoy driving their own cars (for a change) but, are expected to pay for their own gas (which is sometimes difficult). Also, Juniors are relieved because they just finished their final year of required English classes (no more research papers for a while, anyway).

The most exciting part of a Junior's school life is at the end of his third year, when he realizes he will reign over CGUHS in the fall of '79', maturing into a senior.

We're from Brazil!

"We are from Brazil" stated Fabio Guerra and Jorge Vieira. Fabio and Jorge are two of the Rotary foreign exchange students. Fabio has been attending Casa Grande High since January 29, 1978. Jorge arrived in Casa Grande on February 18, 1978. "I really like it here, but the teenagers are very unfriendly," said Fabio. According to Fabio adults are easier to get to know. "I think teenagers here have a lot to share" commented Jorge.

Fabio and Jorge both live at Tierra Grande, a subdivision of 11 mile corner. "I am staying with the Robinson family; they are really nice" said Jorge. Fabio is presently staying with the Taylor family. "Everything was very different for me at first, but I like it now," explained Fabio.

Fabio and Jorge plan on coming back to Arizona to visit their family and friends. "I recommend to everybody to be an exchange student. It is a good experience," said Jorge.

"I'll be sad to leave, but at least I'll remember the good times I had here. Thanks CGUHS for this year of '78, it was just super," stated Fabio.

Junior Editor leads way

Lisa Braddock, is editor of the 1978-79 Cougar Growl. Lisa has worked hard to lead the newspaper staff to one of the best papers the school has ever put out. "I've got a very young, inexperienced, staff but by the end of the year we're all going to be the best organized staff the school has ever seen," commented Lisa. As editor of the Growl, Lisa assigns stories, helps do layouts, but most of all help the new members of the staff get used to the things that they're supposed to do, plus to cope with the adviser saying "Three minutes till deadline!" "This has been a very rewarding year for me, the staff and the school this year."

AFS'ers recall memories

Aloha! That word of farewell may be a little inappropriate now, but it wasn't a year ago for two CGUHS students.

Each year, AFS sends as many students as possible to different places abroad and within the country. Last year CGUHS sent Juniors Terry Acuna, and David Hernandez to Chatham, Mass., and Attica, New York, respectively. Terry left January 22; her stay lasted until July 6.

"I had to see that there was another place besides Casa Grande," Terry commented. "It was hard for me to believe that people could be so different just because they live far apart."

Chatham is a small town in Mass. Terry attended a small high school of about 200 students. Terry stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Quido Stello. She had two brothers and two sisters.

David left for Attica, New York, January 23, and stayed until July 5.

Attica has a population of 2,500, and a high school of about 800 students. While in Attica, David became involved in the Ski club. He also learned how to roller skate, and snowmobile. The people were nice, but they didn't know how to act towards me at first," David commented. The high school was all-white, and David is a Mexican-American.

He stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Miller. David had 3 sisters and 5 brothers. The Miller family took David to Pennsylvania, where he visited Getysburg and Hershey. "Everybody should try it" he remarked, "because sooner or later everyone has to move away from his or her family. This taught me a lot. If I had the chance to do it again, I would."

AIASA Sweetheart: Susan Daniel

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to run for state sweetheart? Ask Susan Daniel, State AIASA Sweetheart for 1978-1979.

Susan was chosen at the state conference in Flagstaff in April of 1978. She was nominated by Freddy Cabinillas.

"It's an experience to meet different people," Susan explained, but she will not run for office next year.

Although AIASA has only existed for four years, Susan was the first board member from Casa Grande.

Building a float for the Homecoming parade is one of the biggest projects of the year. The junior class participated in this project. Approximately fifteen people gathered at Milo Hardt's house each night to work on the float. The juniors decided on the title, "Cougars Munch on Criminal Crunch," for their float theme. Mel Glotfelty, the school mascot, was the only participant riding on the float. The junior class worked hard and steadily for two weeks until the float was completed. Although the junior float did not take first in the competition, they did place second.

As they were building the float on of the juniors commented, "Boy! I've never seen so many napkins in my life."

Success is our goal

"The Junior Council is doing a great job," commented Rochelle Armenta, president of the Junior Class. "It takes a lot of work to have success, and we plan on reaching our goals," said Rochelle. "Our first project was the Homecoming float." "We didn't take first place but second satisfies me," announced Josie Echeverria. "We still have next year," said Barbie Fagerberg. "We plan on having a lot of money making projects," said Rochelle. The Junior Class has recently been selling candy and having bake sales. "Most of this money is going toward the Prom," commented Rochelle. "We are really looking forward to having a good Prom," said Aiessa Fullen. "I am hoping for one of the best Proms held for Casa Grande High," said Rochelle. "Success in our projects means success in our grades," exclaimed Mel Glotfelty.

'You, you're the one'

"You, You're the one" was the theme for the sophomore float. It took twelve group votes to decide upon the theme.

Steve Ornelas volunteered his home for the construction site of the float.

The sophomores began creating the float on the nineteenth. It took two weeks to complete a night, and millions of napkins to complete the float.

As Steve commented "It didn't matter if we won. We participated and enjoyed making the float."

'It was a great year'

The 1978-79 Sophomore class council was led by their fearless leader Steve Ornelas.

"This had to be one of our most exciting years ever," commented Steve. The Sophomore class had one of the best councils the school had ever seen. Terri Holmes class rep.-at large said, "if there was any class that could do it, this was it."

Playing JV Basketball his freshmen year, David Partain was starting Varsity ball his sophomore year. David is playing wing for the basketball team. When asked if he felt any pressure on him he responded, "I did feel the pressure because of my dad being a coach my freshman year, but now I don't feel any pressure because I proved I was good enough to play." After his senior year David plans to attend Oral Roberts University or a school in Colorado. "Someday I would like to fly a 747 for a living," commented David. When David has spare time, he likes to play the piano or ping-pong.

Kelly takes O'Brian nomination

"I was suprised but very pleased that I was nominated for this distinguished award. It is quite an honor," stated sophomore Kelly Kenny. She has been nominated for this years Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation leadership award.

Kelly competed with nominees from schools throughout Arizona. A seminar was held in Atlanta Georgia where the state winner joined winners from the other 49 states, and District of Columbia, Foreign Countries.

"With two years left in high school the seminar participants return home to motivate their classmates, to make a positive contribution, to bring forth and put to use their emerging leadership potential. Young people are our country's greatest natural resource" says Mr. O'Brian concerning the award.

O'Brian asks the young people who attend these seminars that they write to him each year on their birthdays until they are 30 years old, and tell him of their successes and failures. In turn, O'Brian writes to each one of them once a year on his birthday.

Misty is her name; Rodeo is her game

Misty Diwan is a 15 year-old sophomore, who's taken part in more rodeos than anyone in the school.

Misty is one of the best barrel racers in the state of Arizona. Misty has participated in over 20 rodeos. "My best performance ever, was at the Florence Gymkhana. There I won 4 out of 5 races," said Misty. Misty was also named the Most Valuable Female Rider at the Florence Gymkhana.

"Where's room 404?"

"Where's the gym?"

"Can you tell me what's good to eat?"

Sound familiar? Well it should. These were some of the questions freshmen were asking the first weeks of school. The freshmen had to cope with all the upper classmen giving them the hardest time of their entire lives. The first weeks of school they looked like chickens with their heads chopped off, but that's all over now. Freshmen should always remember that their first year is the most memorable of their high school life.

(Upper right) Chad Whisenhunt rests from competition at the rodeo grounds. (Lower right) Left to right: Annette Withrow, Johnny Randall, Cathy Cowser, Mike Jameson gather around Mrs. Carol Powell as she opens her farewell gift on her last day of student teaching. (Below) Dorene Anderson, Kristin Kieft, Edie Thomas (Back) study for one of Mrs. Barbara Warren's English tests.

Freshman Ex. Council 'Shines On'

The Freshmen executive council which consists of six girls and six boys, is the brawn of the Freshman Council. They are the ones that sell buttons, candy lollipops, etc.

Although the Freshmen Executive Council isn't required to go to the student council meetings, it's still an important part of the Freshmen class.

Schedules to be computerized

The Class of "83" won't have much to say about organizing their schedules for the upcoming year. The Freshmen won't be able to pick their lunch periods, teachers and the period they want for a certain subject. Instead, all registration cards will be fed into the computer which will organize each student's schedule. Guidance counselors visited English classes and went through the entire registration process without ever having to wait for walk-through during August. The advantage of this new system is that school administrators will be able to determine the number of sections for each course during the Spring instead of waiting till a week before school starts. This way, class loads will be evened out so all classes will have approximately the same number of students.

Jeanie Cline and Annette Withrow review the registration forms with Freshmen Counselor Bill Eddings.

Alaskan Ben Northey welcomed

"I never had to worry about walking to school," stated Ben Northey, "I simply put on my snow skis and skied to the front door of the school." Ben is from a little fishing town called Homer which is located in Alaska. He arrived in Arizona November 21, 1978.

"We plan on going back to Alaska this summer," Ben said, "to tell you the truth I don't think I could stand the heat." According to Ben the school here is about three times bigger than the one in Homer. He seems to think it's a slight change. "I am in basketball right now but I hope to play baseball," said Ben. He says that Arizona is like Alaska because there are many different nationalities here.

"I just want everyone to understand one thing," commented Ben, "people there don't really live in igloos and ride dog sleds."

Freshman Ben Northey points out the state of Alaska to classmate Lisa Flynn. Ben arrived at CGUHS in November after having spent the past ten years in our 50th state.

The Freshmen class began their meetings way to early on Wednesday morning, while many students are still asleep. Most of the time the Freshmen do not even know what is happening any way, Freshmen try to think most of the time, but they are always thinking with their eyes shut. Everyone in this picture is either gathering up their forty winks, or trying to catch up on their beauty sleep. To this day you can see the freshmen still sleeping in their classes.

Look Through Your Dream

*Now is the Day
To take a chance, and Make a new beginning.*

*See the stars above
The earth below turning,
See the chance to turn failure into winning.*

*Take a chance in the world in Which you are living.
Take the chance to experience, form and create.*

*Take the chance to dream a dream,
Follow a hope,
Wish upon a star.
Look beyond tomorrow, dream beyond tomorrow, and then live your dream through tomorrow.*

Surprises lurk around corner

As long as there are "hidden secrets" there will always be guilty faces, hush-hush here and there and every now and then an unexpected surprise. And since most of us know that keeping a secret in this school is practically impossible, we just have to let it all hang out!

Top stories highlight 78-79

Gh the excitement! You may find it hard to believe that '78 was an action-packed year for Casa Grande, but believe us, it was!.

Casa Grande was so eventful that we will just mention the plane crash in San Diego that killed 144 people, or the two Popes dying in one year, or the first test-tube baby. Along with the first balloon to cross the Atlantic Ocean, or the sex murders of John Wayne Gacy in which he admitted killing 32 boys and young men and burying them under his home, or the war breaking out in Iran. We decided to just let you know what happened in the Casa Grande area.

Ranking number one was the Tison escape, in which Gary Gene Tison and Randy Greenawalt escaped from the Arizona State Prison on July 30 with the help of Tison's sons, Ricky, Donald and Raymond. During their 11 day spree, they allegedly killed a Texas couple which was honeymooning in Colorado, a marine sergeant and his family in Quartzsite, near Yuma, and once they were captured, Ricky, the youngest brother escaped from the Pinal County jail, but was caught only 14 hours later in a maize field about a mile away. Donald Tison was killed at a roadblock near Chu Chui. Gary Tison was found dead 11 days later near a chemical plant.

Another tragic episode in '78 was the floods. First in March and then in December. Heavy rainfall prevailed over most of Arizona. President Jimmy Carter named 7 counties, Pinal included, as disaster areas, which enabled them for federal aide.

Ranking third in special events was the State Championship of the Cougar Baseball team. Under the coaching of Mr. Clint Myers, the Cougars defeated Coronado, 4-2, at Hohokam Park in Mesa for the title.

And coming around the corner in fourth place was the construction of the new police facility, which was valued at $864,000. In place right after the police building was the Cougar Basketball team traveling to Hobbs, New Mexico, for the annual Hobbs Basketball Tournament in which the Cougars brought home third place.

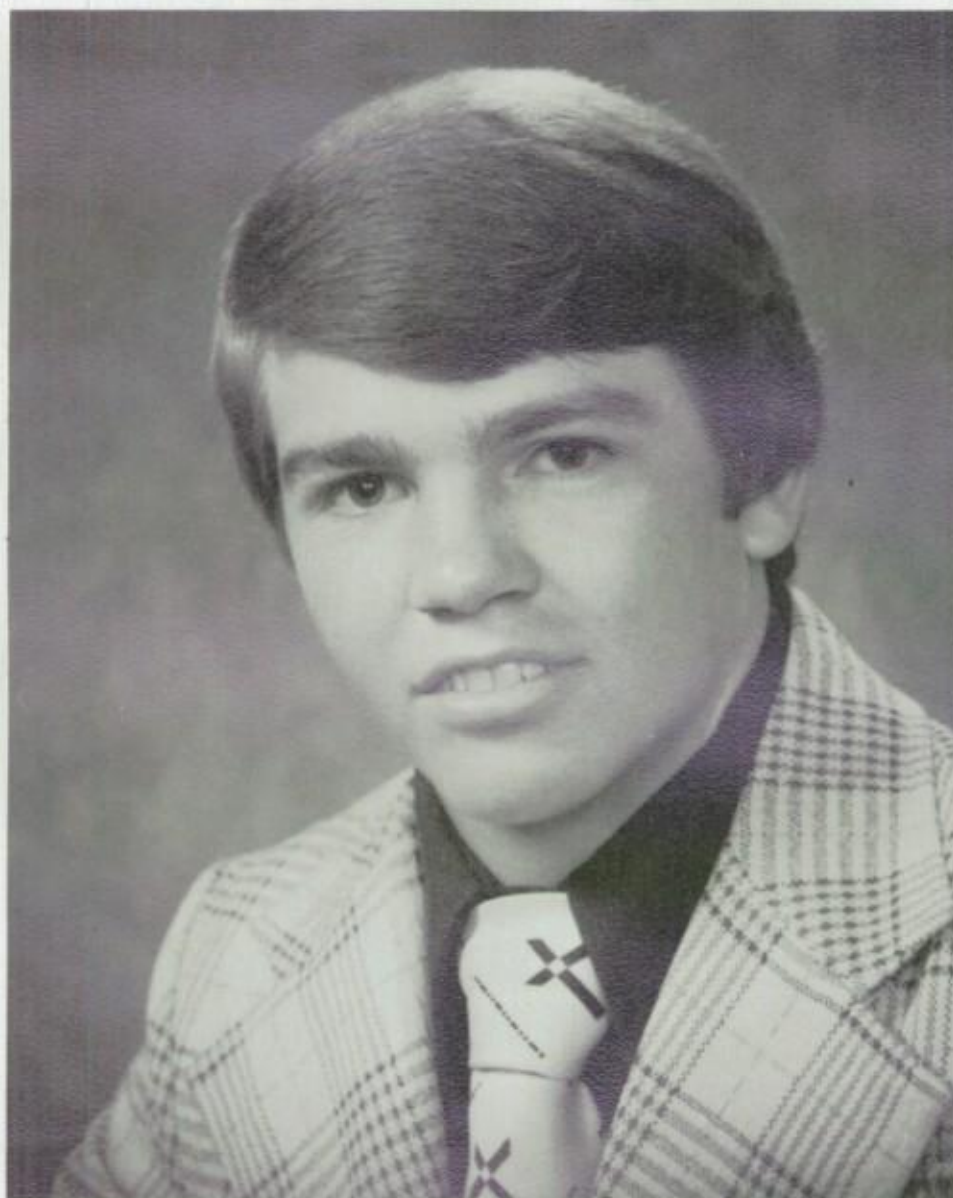

With action like this in Casa Grande, who needs the problems going on anywhere else? We'll just hope that '79 doesn't have any gruesome tragedies as '78 did.

(Left) Floods damaged a large portion of Arizona in November. Here shows the damage done to the Maricopa Area. (Far top) The new police building, valued at $864,000, was completed in '78, after many years of planning. They were captured 11 days following the escape, and it cost the lives of Gary Tison and his son Donald.
